Thread: CTF teams?

pms - September 20, 2018, 8:28 am

Hi everyone.

I recently got back into ctf's again and I've been non-stop playing ctf's on some websites, but i miss being in a team with some friends and since I don't have any friends currently playing CTF, it's kinda hard to make one.

That's why I'm turning to here, if there are any people out there with decent ctf knowledge and are willing to start a team, hit me up!

Yeah, pretty much. You play any?

I agree there seems to be little interest in actual hacking on this forum.

Yeh its pretty interesting , Don't have enough time right now but I'll join soon for sure

I've been looking into CTF challenges for some time now. However, I will have to build on my knowledge before I go into that. I am willing to learn with experienced people though.

I'd be down, Message me if your serious!

newQuery - September 26, 2018, 9:44 am

Seems interesting, how do you get to play alone? And do you always need to wait for an event to happens or is there any online in order to practice?

I'm playing for OpenToAll. As you can imagine, is Open to all, lol, but the team has quite a high level.

We usually are one of the top teams in the CTF's. In fact, we are TOP-25 in CTFtime.

Here's the CTFtime profile: <https://ctftime.org/team/9135>

You should find the information required for registration there. :D

There aren't any requirements really, just being active and polite to other people.

That's what it is, really, "like the cyber-olympics" - Mr. robot

bdawn - September 29, 2018, 8:24 pm

CTFs are always a good way to practice. Sadly, I'm too busy to do any of the online stuff nowadays (Too busy with work, school). I can't even play with my own online team ;-;

Signed up for a few real life competitions though :D

Kinda feel you on this one, school kinda blocks me to practice for events, but eh..

h1tman - October 5, 2018, 2:10 am

I like to join to CTF team.

Icey. - October 5, 2018, 12:11 pm

Well i think that this is not the place to look for people to do CTFs with. When i started doing it with other people. It was through contacts from HF which actually had some knowledge. Many on here today have very low understanding of what "hacking" rly is.

If you want 2 find people who will join you in CTF i recommend you to just ask around.

EDIT:

LoL just saw that your team is from sweden. #HackingSweds
// Im also swedish.

I'd love to join your team. I'm danish.

I have basic knowledge of HTML and php reversing and analyzing.

Post, get, BB, and BT SQLi.

Reflected and stored XSS.

Footprinting.

WiFi hacking and cracking.

LFI

Am not so strong in:

Mostly cryptography.

Am currently learning:

Reverse shells (Metasploit and netcat)

I'm an all Linux user, both fedora and Kali.

I'd say I'm decent, and I'm eager to learn.

Doing CTF is fun, but I'd also like to join to have some sparring partners, so we can evolve together.
