I don't post anything private enough to care.

You should have a main and a private account you sell access to.

What I am asking is do you get random adds if your snap stories are public? I never tried it because it seems like it's asking for trouble.

Why dafuq would u keep your snap story to only friends? You limit yourself. This is a bullshit in my opinion. Everyone should see how hot your whore is. Everyone should get in touch with you. Are you 24/7 available to add all of the people that adds you back? If no, then why would u keep it private when its about increasing your audience...?? Fuck man.....
