Thread: max bounty

Off-White™ - September 23, 2018, 3:58 am i started doing adult cpa on maxbounty and made around 250 in my first week from my ewhore snapchat advertising on my story. i also sent out my website with the link to a few people on kik. later on a got a message saying i could get banned if i didn't stop using kik to advertise. so i messaged my manager and they said max bounty doesn't allow any social media traffic. so i asked about snapchat storys and she said no but never said anything about me already doing it. should i carry on with the advertising on snapchat storys or move to another network to avoid getting banned?

If im not wrong im sure some offers allow advertising with social media, some no. Try to find another offer that accepts that.

Had your issue once on my network, they removed from my account the $ i made (it was 156$ Usd).

Sent you also a pm with a question.

Just make a bridge or a landing page.

If you don't have time for all that just write "Click Here to visit Website name" with your link to click on.

It will work 100% this way (unless stated otherwise). All my offers have LPs

thank you all for the help

Yeah you can use a cloaker and redirect. However cpa networks are notorious for not paying. Best idea is to just follow the rules.

Just create a LP or you can try other networks who allow snapchat traffic.
