i mean I have my own personal menu that I've made since GTA v is super easy to reverse engineer and 100% no ban because I'm using the games code to run things within the menu

i mean YOU can go buy GTA V for 30$ while I can just continue to get it for free and sell people accounts for the right price of 5$-12$ on PC unless you're talking console wise, then 20$ sound about right

He's probably offering his personal acc, and not a cracked acc, which is why the pricing. No need to bully him on that tbh.

@OP Stats/in-game money are pretty much worthless due to how easy it is to mod (and not get banned), but defo its worth $15 easily considering you get a legit copy of the game.

Thank you for explaining me this and taking time to write this reply!

You need to play GTA5 on the same steam account if its there. Family sharing wont work.

Even if I play with a steam account with GTA, it'll ask for a activation code and I've done this with two different accounts, and there will be no code there to activate the game lol so it's like, damn
