Thread: Warning || Scammed by _NonStOp_ UID=3682942

BloodCyka - September 26, 2018, 1:21 am

Hey guys.

So i bought a PUBG cheat from this vendor on site cause he had a few trusted members saying he was good and that the program worked but after i bought it even tho in his tread:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5883498> it specifies its AutoBuy when i received the automatic message from rocketr well the link didn't worked and it said i had to msg him on discord.

I tried to put myself in contact with the seller directly thru rocketr but i couldn't, so i find his discord somehow (cant really remember) and pmd him 4 hours after i was sleeping and he contacted me asking for proof of purchase couple hours after i sent him the information he was asking and after a while he didn't even replied even tho he was online at several times and i told him several times i just wanted my money back.

here we are 36-48 hours after opening a scam dispute and doing a reclamation on paypal right after this.

Proofs:

you can check his mega.nz links on that came thru in the mail he "automatically sent"

I'll close this dispute if the seller gives me my money back willingly, starting the reclamation @paypal.

You'll need to add the contract here, if you do not have one from the marketplace, this will get closed as an invalid dispute.

Every code is 9.50 how is a week 30?

eitherways point being is i dont have a contract would this get shutdown even tho he havent replied to any of my messages for over 36+ hours? im already disputing the payment on paypal, ill prob win the reclamation cause his paypal is not even fully verified.

Nope, staff do not get involved in disputes without a contract in place, had that been in place, he would most likely end up banned.

oh well, if theres nothing the staff can do please close this i understand i will get a warning, it was totally my fault for not keeping up with HF rules, thanks anyways ill get my money back thanks to paypal but he has a sticky a paid sticky on a scam, so i think even if he is not gonna get banned something should be done with that.

He is now closed. I really doubt he'll refund you but maybe your PP dispute will work.
