Who would want to start up a new version of Omnicoin?

I have been reading up on it, and there are some perks of us doing this again.

It would be HF's personal cryptocurrency, but with a twist-
Admin abilities

Now listen, I know this seems like a lot but honestly, the amount of people getting scammed for BTC or Paypal or whatever is crazy...
It has happened to me.

With a new version of Omnicoin, we can have the Admins of the site be able to reverse transactions on site-level.

This means if you are scammed, and have a decent or proven dispute, you COULD potentially get some or all money back.

Utilizing this idea would be great because it also creates jobs for people and can help generate money for the site, such as:

More crypto-trading markets - users can cash out their Omnicoin like they do with BTC.

A trade fee from the site to purchase Omnicoin to help generate profit.

Etc;

Now I know HF lost money on this project when it started, but it's about to be 2019.

We can start something new and get the HF name out there more.

Who would be interested in something like this?

You might get a quicker official response in the suggestions and ideas SF.

I didn't create Omnicoin, a member did. I'm not sure what the future holds for tokens and HF.

Never suggest to me ever again that we do such a thing. I will fuck your account into oblivion!
