Not being active on hf myself, it's kinda late for me to mark his absence !

user : <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=3090794>

Only thing i remembered about him was that he was on a neg rep spree after the reps were removed, he may not be knowing me but i've seen him from the first day i've joined this forum he was active af.

Went through his profile and found this :

xD why not just ask to come back to HF. There are contracts in place now, i'm sure that's enough reason to allow you back. Anyone who doesn't use them is closed and if you use them and scam there is proof to close you too.

Interesting considering you knew who he was but still gave him rep, as well as lani.

Just a good guy on the forum who deserved some rep. Nothing too interesting about that.

Honestly don't give a shit but you're not gonna lose anything or be in trouble with the big boss for giving it to him, lying however is something I can't stand. For that, fuck you.

Don't pay any attention to him, he is busy scamming HF users for Kickstarter funds.

Oh damn, matt's turned to the dark side during my absence. Very disappointed in him, although I did always know he had it in him based off his allegations on everyone else..
