I have been wondering if there was a way to delete all of your threads, have a few threads I made MANY years ago which I do not want at all.

Pretty sure no. Just close them.

No cuz it would be bad for SEO or some shit

If i could delete all my thread i would do it aswell tbh but whatever. Maybe one day im gonna be like a 40 year old guy with decent success and then someone exposes my cringy HF threads and i will have to kill myself.

You are not allowed to destroy the contents of threads unless you want a closed account. It ruins the forum SEO and makes it annoying to have lots of broken thread links everywhere.

Deleting threads was removed. Your stuck with them.

There is no way and editing out content of your threads will be met with a long ban and the threads being restored.
