Thread: Cyber Gentlemen.

Mr. Robot - October 6, 2018, 8:31 am

So that's the newest addition to HF, a group I am leading - finally. No more fucking around - groups are back in town.

Suggestions on userbar designs? Or if you want, hit me up with your paint drawing. What would you like to see out of the group most.

(teamed up with the now owner TrustWoofer)

Logo and userbar with people having beard and cigars, seems great!

Good Luck with your new group buddy. ?

Currently a bit tight on time but will try to design something for you guys.

Not asking for actual graphics as it's out of the graphic section - just ideas that we can put forward that the community contributes too. I'd like something everyone recognizes and is proud of to have in the forum.

Y3LI0NZ - October 6, 2018, 8:39 am

A bunch of old guys in suits with anonymous masks on.

Ømen Xiii - October 6, 2018, 8:39 am

First off congratulations on the group my friend that's awesome and well deserved! I wish I was good at GFX cause I have some ideas for this kind of user group.

Maybe you could make like your own little emblem that looks like some kind of designer brand that suggests your a high end gentlemen or something? I'm not sure let me think about this for a bit and I'll come back and try to have better ideas and input my man.

I get that buddy,

It's just that contributing something to the community is contributing to Hackforums. And i am up for that.

As I don't have the funds to contribute, contributing some skills never hurts. ?

Zexi - October 6, 2018, 8:42 am

Damn congrats, really wanna see where the group will go. Probably the base HF guy in a suit with a beard and a cigar in his mouth would be cool.

Prawnster - October 6, 2018, 8:43 am

It's gotta have a glass of whiskey on ice with a cigar or something similar to that nd then you'd need to tie in the "cyber" element some how

Hmm it's all about fitting it into the userbar sizing. Then there's thread design - which can be more lenient.

yee thinking about it, my idea might be a bit too ambitious for a user bar - sometimes I forget how small they actually are lmao

Business - October 6, 2018, 8:46 am

I can tell you'll put the effort in to make sure the group is active and of a high caliber. As for graphics, the name gives you a lot of wiggle room. I'm going to think on the name and see if I come up with any noteworthy ideas.

Congrats man!

Java - October 6, 2018, 8:51 am

I would be interested in joining in the future, when you do open applications.

Neodraxis - October 6, 2018, 9:22 am

If you need someone to design your thread I would be glad to.

ArmDegree - October 6, 2018, 10:35 am

What are the subjects talked about in this group? We need a chat group without rules can talk fraud botnets etc etc...!!!

Those subjects don't sound very gentlemanly. Besides, fraud isn't allowed to be discussed on HF.

As for the userbar idea, the name makes me think of a cane for some reason. Also it would be cool if you could incorporate somehow the old Mr. Robot avatar with half of the mask and half your face with the beard. As someone else here said already beards are pretty classy

Elysium - October 6, 2018, 12:32 pm

I think this would be a good group for people that like to debate or have thought provoking conversations. As the name suggests, this should be a group for gentlemen. i.e. People who can contribute knowledge and hold themselves to a higher standard than most others. Maybe your members can contribute more meaningful discussions within the lounge and SRPP.

No, just no. This isn't that kind of forum. Go look elsewhere.

So basically Void again? ?

Pikachu - October 6, 2018, 1:49 pm

This is actually pretty cool, this would be an awesome addition to the groups! I would be interested in joining the group if given the chance.

My main question though, Is the group going to revolve mainly around coding and technology? Or will other subjects/topics also be involved?

Which was void of content and activity.

Good luck on your endeavors!

Hope to see some activity soon ?

Tempr5 - October 6, 2018, 7:46 pm

virus - October 6, 2018, 7:48 pm

Good luck with the new group Robot. Looking forward for the recruitment. Nice to see you own a group again.

CheGuevara? - October 6, 2018, 8:02 pm

Sweet Robot! I'd suggest (3?) "core sections" within the group, allow more than "one type" to feel he/she belongs.

I know you're fairly interested in what is happening globally, (the truth), and if a 'section' like that would exist I would want to be part of it no doubt.

Example.

Core 1: IT(name?) - Anything IT related, share your guides, knowledge, seek help regarding IT issues, offer help, discuss, coding, software/hardware, GFX, etc.

Core 2: Global Exposure(name?) - For everything regarding 'seeking the truth', sharing knowledge, learning, teach, redpill, etc.

Core 3: Gentlemen's Club (name?) - A lounge sort of, but with serious posts regarding the group itself. (Discuss the group, form ideas, shape the future of it, etc).

Best of luck Robot & TrustWoofer!

2nd go around yeah. 1st go around it was active with daily discussions and what not. Until the owner grew bored and sold it off.

Snowwy - October 7, 2018, 6:30 am

Congratulations on the group again. Hope it goes well.

Mr.Cat - October 7, 2018, 7:37 am

Ok so i imagine a scene where you have a bunch of people with black suits (and hats... optional) standing together and behind them or bellow them you have a map of the world and a lock in the middle or a shield or something... ;D

SIM-403479 - October 7, 2018, 10:44 am

Pulz - October 9, 2018, 4:59 pm

So long as it doesn't end up as a mostly inactive lounge-whore group, it will be interesting to see what you do with it.

Design wise: Something simple? None of those over-the-top fancy/shiny mountains/moons/wings n' shit userbars (no offence designers, not that my opinion matters that much).

Obviously with the name being relatively long- something that implies the purpose and name of the group would be best suited. You'll likely end up going with a moustache with computational elements, or something akin to a barber shop/private club design.

I'd like to make the somewhat selfish suggestion that you consider a retrowave themed design; I'd have no clue where you'd start with that though.

PolyGram - October 9, 2018, 5:01 pm

"groups are back in town"

to be honest with you no one cares about groups. kids join for the userbar and this will be no different.

so op gonna have to pay actual cash for it to be done and he is expensive so sure out of ops budget as he quoted me $150 for a thread design

Why do you want to join cyber gents?

I am interested in joining cyber gents as I feel that a group that specializes in the new and upcoming rather than the elite and established is something that HF has been missing. This type of group is something that I have been secretly dreaming of in the forums. I would love to be a part of the process and the evident evolution of interaction through the forums.

Would you be able to answer general questions about this forum?

Yes of course.

Have you made positive contributions Hack Forums community in the past, and if so what was it?

Normally, this is where someone would post threads that they have made and are proud of, but in this case I feel that my replies throughout my whole 4 years on HF can be seen as a positive contribution in terms of making those who are browsing feel welcome. Over thousands of replies and hundreds of old reps, most were about being friendly and a good person, rather than business.

How would you try to get people to this forum/make new members stay?

Some activities that I have been planning to do but under a group that will support it would be forum-wide puzzles, chatrooms, and other social events that could be organized. These events could be bonding experiences that when deployed by the right group of people will be very influential to the forums as a whole.

How can we help each other on HF?

I decided to change the question of what can you do for me, to this, as having a mutualistic mindset is something that can greatly benefit the forums as well as each other. Providing a platform of support both as the receivers and the givers can benefit everyone in the group as those who put in will surely get out of it, whether it be through smiles, or new friendships. We can also focus on the betterment of those around us, rather than those that we are comfortable and friends with.

Have any additional comments?

Thank you for making a group where the direction is pushed towards the new and not the old.
Thank you for reading!
