I suggest you use that to a) Learn something b) Upgrade to whatever the next thing is on HF. Knowledge will pay off in the long run more than most things.

$27 is a low budget to start with, but definitely not impossible to turn it into something more. Simply don't expect to have your investment increase to let's say, $1000 very quickly. It could take you a couple months for that. Seeing that you're at a point where you do not know what to do, look into fiverr gigs and resell the products/services on other platforms such as amazon, etsy, ebay, etc. On fiverr, people offer gigs for $5. Do some research on other platforms and see what people are buying and what is in demand.

From there you buy gigs on fiverr and resell them. This is one option, hope it helps!

Okay see thats your problem. No one in this world will ever do things for you unless they are your friend or they owe you something. This is your time to put in work and find that out. If I knew what was in demand I would take that to my advantage and make money for myself. It's all about research man. If you want money that bad, read and gain opinions from people all over the world. You have access to one of the most useful tools in the world; the internet. Your lack of work ethic is what is stopping you from making money. Put in the work and you shall be rewarded!

Register at Crakrevenue (plz use my ref link) <http://affiliates.crakrevenue.com/registration?r=77586>

Bullshit the approval process saying your traffic comes from social or porn sites like Reddit or Redtube. (Takes about a day to be approved)

Download new and popular porn videos, my favorite niches are:

Cam videos - chaturbate, omegle, myfreecams

Hentai Games - FapHero, HoneySelect, search "all cut scenes" or similar to find them.

Post these videos to Pornsites with your ad link from CrakRevenue. Also post them to 18+ subreddits. You don't need a website or anything, but it helps if you do. Putting watermarks saying "Check Description for...." will help you get more clicks on you link. Use your imagination.

I used to cash out of CPAlead with no issues when I was 15, have them send a check or PP the money. Why would being 17 matter?

That is a tough one. It takes money to make money....

When I was your age I signed up for a flyer run and just burned and buried the flyers when I got sick of doing it. I made like $200.

Try to resell stuff on the internet.
