Thread: Loosing allot of clients fast with fud file, need help hi, ive started rating again after a long time off, using imminent monitor (yeah yeah, i know, no crypting) and spartancrypter. So i bought some installs from pinkpanther but i lose like 40/50 in 30m, even with a fully fud file in scantime and runtime. and 24-48h later i got like 3 left. ive been using bare minimum settings on imminent monitor and doing install and startup on crypter. i have tried the other way around also. because i bought the installs i didn't add any assembly info or icon, was that a mistake? i really have a hard time figuring out why im loosing them lmao, it's because their AV is removing the file because sure it might be FUD at first but it's a public stub crypter, it doesn't even take 12 hours for spartan to start getting detections.

i know but i scan the file 5m before i buy the bots and its 0/23 runtime and 0/30 scantime. how can i lose almost all within 30m?

botkiller. it's a function on some rats botnet or even cyrpters, it will delete any malware on the PC so only the malware with botkiller is alive.

That sounds like a botkiller.

Why do people buy bots? What could you possibly want from saturated connections?
