Check out this Coin, Electroneum, it has been increasing since one week, check thier developement and if you ever wish to invest do it before it get in a higher price, it has been increasing from 0.00000082 to 0.00000360 in the last 2 week, they're surging and are only at thier beta phase, hope it can help some people to get a easier lifetime :)

Electroneum "scammed" their customers with mobile mine which do not works, make research about this coin before you invest this.

I don't know everything but I stop to like this coin.

It's not even a mobile miner lol, it's a simulator. Battery life on phones has always been an issue and the only ones who are simulating it are the people in third world countries making 10c a month.

It's a shitcoin with good marketing, that's about it. They even endorsed titanium coin that the SEC later shutdown.

Yea, it's true since they're only giving a rate from which your device "may be pulling" if they could mine it's wrote on thier website
