Thread: Looking for Frontend designer for form design/validation job

thierbig1 - October 9, 2018, 9:57 pm

Hello,

I need a frontend dev with minimal node.js knowledge to design/upgrade 2 form pages.

The pages will require beautiful design with elegant error validation for basic input elements in a form...

Required:

-PUG/JADE experience (if you don't know what this is , it's a HTML templating language, pretty easy to learn)

-javascript frontend experience

-less/css experience

All you'll need to do is run the project in node.js so you can debug efficiently with localhost...
Nothing to code in the backend.

Please leave your skype here. I'm not interested to deal with a company. Just a skilled guy who can do the job quickly.

I have a Bachelor degree in Software Engineering and am willing to help you out!

My biggest project is the Browser Anti Popup Taurus for the Xbox One, a little frontend would be cool :)
