Usually walking robots are slow and prone to tripping, but this one is actually pretty nimble and can even run and do acrobatics.

That's a pretty decent robot! I've seen more capable, still impressive nonetheless.

I need to see it do more.

Boston dynamics is a great robotics company. Every video is more impressive than the previous one.

This video is quite old and left out the backflip at the end.

It's still super impressive what Boston Dynamics accomplishes, although quite scary.
