Thread: [PaxFul \[trader scammed me\]](#)

YuDoDisToMe - October 17, 2018, 2:53 pm

After 105 successful exchanges there, i got scammed lol?

Gave this guy with 7167 trades a 50 gbp psn wallet code , he redeemed, i saw it was redeemed.

Told me how long will i wait to get the coin since he redeemed, he says he didn't redeem then told me to wait cause he checks the code?

Stops replying at all, i message him tons of times with no response from him.

I opened a dispute and explained the situation, do you think i will win?

He has much more successful deals but 30 negatives while i have 105 deals and 0 negs.

EDIT : that shitface after claiming he didn't redeem he released the coin lmao yeah you should win it. Many traders have fake bottled accounts with loads of trades/positive reviews

EDIT : that shitface after claiming he didn't redeem he released the coin lmao! stopped selling bitcoin on paxful because poor support. Guy disputed 500 bucks or something and they were like well we can close his account. I convinced them to give me everything they had on him and I had plenty from the trade and ended up winning but yeah... never happened on localbitcoin

Great man that you won , nice!

Paxful support is real aids. From my experience it's almost always a coin toss on who will end up winning the dispute.
