I am kinda curious now. We need a contract to file DDs now? I see some threads without contract and some staff just said its invalid and remove the thread and sorry for your lost OP.

Go to the deal dispute section and check the thread right at the top.

If there is no contract, what do u expect?

The user won't be closed due to no contract, all we can do is avoid this scammer.

I don't expect anything, I want just to alert the community about this scammer.

I'm not a kid, I know I've lost 125$.

With a username like that, what did you expect would happen? ???

All jokes aside I feel for you as I lost money on HF before Contracts were a thing and unfortunately the person got away with it. Best of luck.

Please add his UID to the title so other users get warned.

Right now this thread does not pop up when you search his UID. :)

You can open a community alert in place of a deal dispute
