Thread: I don't play habbo anymore.. What can i do with a room full of furniture?

Condoms - October 21, 2018, 1:02 am

Been in Habbo, for over 10 years..

Have had all his furniture for years now.. And haven't done anything with it in a good while..

Do people still buy habbo hotel furniture/stuff? Or just let it goto waste and forget about it?

Alexander - October 21, 2018, 6:25 am

That stuff isn't worth anything. Well, someone might buy it for a buck or two. It's not worth the effort to sell

Alf Pacino - October 21, 2018, 6:48 am

Worth nothing maybe just give it to some new member of habbo not worth the time to sell

Alexander - October 21, 2018, 7:28 am

I would just keep it there for future nostalgia purposes :)

It's not really worth anything.

People buy gb's for a few bucks.

Probably destroy your computer because that game is trash. ?

J0nSn0w - November 11, 2018, 5:07 pm

give it to some random noob you come across.

I'd just start trading those to get more and more furniture.

That's just me though.

Playing a game 10 years and then ending up with only these furnitures?

Thanks for the picture tho, alot of nostalgic looking at this.

Exactly brings back so much memories

You don't really have anything you could sell anyway, so I'd just keep it on your account for history.

I have a few dice tables.

What are they worth?

As far as i know people DO buy habbo stuff ! not sure exactly witch items but they do gold bars and etc.

Maybe check the forum to see if you can sell it or other places, before letting it go. you might make a buck ro so

EliteManagement - August 22, 2020, 12:20 pm

I think i still have shitloads of rooms full lol
