Thread: HTTrack & Blogspot?

BookOfRa - October 21, 2018, 9:43 am

Hello guys it's possible to copy a website with HTTracks and paste it to my blogspot blog?

Thank you

Hmmm....

There you are.

Depends on security.

Why you use HTTracks to clone blogspot?

Blogspot uses template, find/ buy it

Articles? Copy paste >> Spinner?

I think this would be your best option OP.

Design wise you could just try to find the template and for the article, just copy it.

i don't understand ur question ,, (know little English)

if u want to copy index.php (home page) ,, going to frontpage ,, press open (then pase url)

change every link and like of picture for style ,, if u want to copy everything in site (u need to get backup and install same script in your site)

if u want to make phish page from that site ,, i will teach u by new thread i will make it ,,

,, if ur question not about what i said ,, explain more ,, (nothing possible)
