Thread: Hacking Aliexpress Supplier's Account?

dx.xb.do.ob.dx.xb - October 21, 2018, 11:45 pm

Hello,

Is there a way to hack supplier's account on aliexpress? The reason is to cancel a pending order I have with them.

They deliberately prevented me from cancelling an order by changing the order status as 'Shipped' and using a fake tracking id.

I have contacted the customer representatives at aliexpress and they can't do sh*t to cancel it. The only option i have is to waiting until i can open a dispute

So here i am thinking.... why can they just cancel my damn order especially when it is obvious the vendor has use a fake DHL tracking id thus prevent me from cancelling.

I would like to access the supplier's account and cancel my order on their end so that i can't get my $$$ back sooner. Despite messaging them numerous times to cancel the order, all my efforts have been deemed unsuccessful.

Regards

Oh my god. The 'Regards' ending makes it all sound like bullshit.

Nothing wrong with ending a message with regards, probably used to sending emails and shit

Name one single, real, actual "effort" you put into it, and ill tel you exactly step by step how to do it.

Pro-tip: you can't, because if you put any effort into it all, then you wouldnt have needed to post this, in fact you, if you were posting anything it would about how to perform a logical technique, or help on a exploit, or how to stay persistent on a windows 2000 machine or even something as simple as the right way to message the seller.

If you have to tell us why you want to hack what, then your just all bullshit and should accept the fact that your not going to get what you want just because you asked for it. Period.

Look at the post below yours, we can tell by the title who is worth listening too, the only reason im posting this is in hopes that you will understand that this forum is not for you to use people for there skills because you dont have those skills.
