Thread: [\[FREE\]\[FUD\] Native C++/asm crypter](#)

Kio_88 - October 22, 2018, 2:59 pm

I went through some of my old tools, and decided to share some. This is a crypter written in C++ with a custom build assembly injection method. I don't use it anymore, as it only works with native applications and my current setup is .net.

<https://ufile.io/yn8pg>

it does NOT work with .net. It does work with native applications, and it appends EOF data. It should be FUD. <https://spyralscanner.net/> is down, so i cant scan right now, but if someone else knows a tool, feel free to use and post results.

Can I trust this? I'm a little skeptical.

Well like I said I have no use for this, it does not work with .net. Since it works great with native applications, I thought I would share.

I would recommend running anything you download from here in a sandbox/vm anyways..

Becareful guys this dud looks scary

Looks like it isnt FUD anymore (1/22) spyralscanner.net/result.php?id=cR6pfYD4WZ

Thanks anyways, not too bad for a free crypter.

I'm having an issue "This application could not be started. Do you want to view information about this issue?"

I don't think so, it happens to the cryped file.
