Thread: [\[Spreading\] Browser Plugin Pages \[VIDEO\] Web infecting with default plugin pages](#)

Hypnotist - October 28, 2018, 4:13 pm

I'm hoping this will turn into a development thread. It has a lot of potential, especially if you can get a lot of traffic. If you have loads of FTP's check out Ziframer to mass iframe. Let me know your thoughts. How are you guys currently infecting computers?

By the way

Spoiler \(Click to View\) Don't worry about me putting myself on display, police are not an issue for me. Do not do what I do though ?

I posted this a while back on HF and it got really good feedback. No one got in touch with any improvements/new browser pages though.

Currently buying bots from my supplier mostly but this would be great! Does it infect the users machine after the plugin is added?

It just downloads what ever you set the download link to. For example you could set it up to look like flash player and name the plugin. Flash Player.exe or Flash Player Update.exe or what ever adobe calls it. ?

I have an idea I will test and get right back here with a potential way to abuse this even more...

edit: making chrome download .lnk files doesn't work. Nevermind.
