f o r m i d a b l e - October 31, 2018, 12:30 pm

Greetings,

I'm in an honor society of business admin specializing in finance, and will obtain some financial licenses prior to getting in venture capital. I like to network and help build connections in business. Now I want to develop a group of like-minded people to share this journey. This would become an organization at its best. It will require emailing and talking on the phone(not telemarketing), and you will be guided. We start off with a list of qualities to ensure you're the right fit for this group. If the following qualities do not relate to you, please choose something else, otherwise you'll become lost and waste time.

This requires effort, meaning it's not a get-rich-quick or auto-pilot system.

If at least 5 qualities listed below describe or resonate with you, you're a good fit for this.

Ideal Qualities:

- Research: you have the ability to do strong or light research, organize your research, and interpret your findings in writing. Knowledge of using google search strings can be helpful. You can adapt to using new platforms to research.
- Communication: you can interpret your way of communication in a way that is easy to understand, specific (as in not vague), and cordial with business people.
- +40 WPM Typing Speed: it's annoying working/chatting with people who can't type at the world's average speed--trying to make sense off a few words at a time. If you can type a sentence, followed by another within 5 seconds, this is fine. Having time to think is fine as well.
- Teamwork: we'll work as a group, sub-group, and individuals at times depending on the nature of the work. You believe teamwork is valuable in many ways and can take part in it.
- Transparent: you think of how things may turn out, and can prepare for the good or bad scenarios. You can plan ahead.
- Takes Initiative: you can speak your mind or take lead on certain things whenever necessary.
- Self Developing: you want to improvise, evolve, and be better than before.
- Self Control: you are not easily discouraged. You can control your emotions.

Once again, if at least 5 of these^ represent you, you're a good fit for this. Other qualities not reflected now can be improved.

Like any business, the hardest part is the beginning. Therefore we are a mastermind group; to not only create wealth, but to also gain knowledge through unity, thus gathering essential data in order to enhance our success even further. I'll admit that I don't know everything yet, but expect us to acquire greater knowledge and strategy than the average, and according to my analysis of this business model, it's greater than wholesaling to amazon, real estate, or even Wall Street. In fact it's none of those. This is entering the big leagues of the commerce industry. What's more attractive is that no money is needed to close a deal when done right. We are just brokering deals—connecting buyers to sellers. In the past year, I was obsessed over—what will be a good business to broker? I fumbled through several good speculative ideas, but had found commerce to be most lucrative. Surprisingly, it's overlooked and not heavily sought after like other businesses, which means a lot of money to make. Something like a 5% commission can mean millions of dollars; even 1% can mean a million dollars. The demands are there in abundance, and the Need to buy and sell between the two parties are what we connect for profit.

What to expect?

The early days will be educational, as you will have to learn the ropes of how it goes within this industry. Workflow should be smoother as time goes by. We'll have business discussions. I'll divide tasks out into smaller units of our group, where each sub group and group members have a certain role to obtain certain information. This info will be written in briefly and comprehensively. They will be submitted as separate group assignments. I then justify what has been compiled and translate that towards the group, for further transparency about running our business. Ultimately, we make money as a team. Everything will be fair and satisfactory as will be acknowledged. As a team, we work smarter, not harder. I would rather work smarter. (Too much to explain here, more will be explained inside the group...)

To join, tell us about yourself through the questions listed below.

These questions help me assess your position within the group; there's no right or wrong.

Instructions: copy from within the box, and paste in your reply to answer.

USA

What are your strengths or skills?

Im crafty and quick. I understand concepts pretty far and already thinking of loop holes within the concept

Do you currently go to work or school? school

Have you worked within e-commerce or had offline clients or sales before? If so, explain.yes my buddy of mines runs an e commerce selling gun parts. I help with sales and running the operations.

Why are you interested in commerce or business? commerce is money. Building a business from scratch is extremely difficult but like everything from scratch it becomes fruitful

What's been the hardest research or learning you had accomplished? researching on the psychology of the brain

Have you written material that required precision or quality like college essays, Web/SEO content, or social media content before? If so, explain.

Yes. I wrote an 8 page report on bitcoins starting from the birth to the rise to the present day. All aspects of Bitcoin was included such as why is it such an impact to society and our future, what technology it brought for us, and the potential it creates for us in the future.

What are some ways or useful habits that allow you to perform well? Anything.I love to brain storm. From beginning to end. I am a doer and I just check everything off the list until it's done

Anything else you want to add? (optional) everyone in a team has a specialty. I'd like to bring my specialty to your team. "I'm not here to lead but I'll lead if I must. I'm not here to follow but I will follow if I must.i will succeed and succeed I must."

Irrelevant. My current earnings are not associated with this. If you read carefully, you can tell it's a team startup. Commissions are projections of which has been analyzed.

What is the country you're in?

I currently reside within the United States of America.

What are your strengths or skills?

I am a highly self motivated individual with a desire to be successful. My work ethic is strong and I possess great self discipline, this entails an understanding of reality and an obsessive habit of planning ahead for both good and bad scenarios. I have been told my whole life that I should be a lawyer due to simple fact I understand language and how to use it to my advantage, this is useful in both business customer acquisition and sales.

Do you currently go to work or school?

Attending my final year of university with an expected graduation date of December 2019.

Have you worked within e-commerce or had offline clients or sales before? If so, explain.

No true eCommerce experience other than knowledge obtained through online videos and eBooks. Operated a small jewelry sales business during the summer of 2017 in which I obtained clients through word of mouth (using friends / family as verbal ads in workplace) and the guise of "college payment" assistance.

Why are you interested in commerce or business?

I am interested in sales for the obvious goal of obtaining money alongside an impactful reputation. I love working on a problem that has no easy answer which is why I believe the world of commerce / business is the perfect fit for me.

What's been the hardest research or learning you had accomplished?

My university contains a cyber security club which I had joined early in my freshman year. Climbing the ranks within the organization by showing my dedication and passion for the organizations growth, I was tasked with building a very minimal website with IRC functionality. At the time of the website development request I had zero knowledge of HTML / CSS. Despite my evident roadblock, I dedicated more than 6+ hours a day, after completing all required university obligations such as class projects, to learning the fundamentals of website development. Due to my persistent diligence in completing this task without harming my reputation, I was able to complete all requested functions and design needs for the site.

Have you written material that required precision or quality like college essays, Web/SEO content, or social media content before? If so, explain.

Undergraduate directed research projects requiring a published paper, government legislation proposals for rural food access issues, and cyber forensics investigation documentation reports are the highlights of my professional writing experience.

What are some ways or useful habits that allow you to perform well? Anything.

I am independent, highly passionate, and possess an almost primal desire to be better than others which grants me the mental clarity to tackle a problem with full devotion. If I do not possess knowledge of something, I am able to research and utilize online information to learn without the need of hand holding. A desire to be successful envelops my thoughts on a never ending basis, laziness and loss of passion will never cross paths with my journey to make money.

Anything else you want to add? (optional)

My search for like minded, motivated individuals to share ideas and collaborate with has been largely unsuccessful for almost two years. I insist that you take my application into consideration in the hopes that this unsuccessful search changes and contact me if you have any further questions, comments, or concerns.
