Good luck with sales OP.

Just like to point out I can't see any contract for the first 2 people who 'purchased' on HF which is either breaking the rules by not using the contract system or a blatant attempt at abusing sales by fake sales/vouches.

If you can clear that up that would be great.

I'd also like to point out

Also looking at your old sales thread image of proof of earnings

You could be using an alternative paypal account but your contact history for BTC to paypal doesn't match up with payments we can see. This is also a bit concerning as you claim it's legal but are using multiple pp accounts.

We also don't know if you exchanged that BTC in the image shown to paypal or vice versa to take the images we see as there are a few currency exchanges on HF in threads that never had contracts and some that did.

But if shade is already using an OP method for money making, and you are friends - wouldn't you share it with him or wouldn't he buy it straight away? That only makes sense considering he helped you make more than what you are selling this for.

Replying to the flamer above.

1. I am in the midst of 2 contracts with both customers. Maybe do some actual research before yapping that big mouth of yours.
2. Your trust scan is more sketchy than mine. Why does info from 2017 even remotely matter.
3. Please refrain from sales trashing, you've already been reported to mods.

 1. We can't see open contracts by viewing your market rating.
 2. Mine is what it is and there's nothing dodgy about it - however still not a defence for yours.
 3. I am not sales trashing, I am interested in purchasing however I have serious concerns that should be answered - I am only voicing my concerns for others to see which will encourage more sales when you deal with them. Things they might not even think of asking.
- You should be happy your customers feel safe and protected when purchasing.

If we can see the users you are in a contract with, we can ask them for their thoughts before buying - that's extremely important - verifying how legit they are as buyers and not friends as well as hearing what they have to say.

Also kind of interesting because i've had long chats with you in the past and you know who I am, my username is still the same yet you're acting like we've never PMd.

Well seems like OP is telling the truth then.

Tor - November 2, 2018, 8:47 am

Nobody is obligated to provide you with anything. I get that you must be the center of attention on this forum but maybe get your facts right. I chose who I sell to and I chose who I discuss with, this is my method and my team. Your claims about the contract were entirely false as you've realized and your jab at my trust scan is purely ironic since yours is worse.

I don't care if you're interested in purchasing because you're most definitely not getting a slot on the team. Definitely getting the worst of me after trying to making these bogus claims without doing any proper research.

How about you go get your facts right than you can try to cause a scene once again mr sherlock holmes.

EDIT: Ok we get it you found the contracts, now stop contradicting yourself and stay off my thread.

Shade is selling old ebook..

jamesmakenzy - November 2, 2018, 2:58 pm

I added OP on Skype and it started out well like a good salesmen he was trying to sell me on his 400/day method.

The only reason i contacted op was because I saw paypal was accepted.

"Enrollment Pricing

Slots can be purchased by contacting me via Skype or PM. Payments can be made in Bitcoin, Ethereum & PayPal."

I tell him ill make the payment when I get home and follow his guidance but if I do and still make nothing then i'll ask for a refund.

It was then that OP stated that he couldn't use his paypal because his accountant said it would interfere with his business or some stuff like that.

I'm like fair enough, OP suggest to me debit/credit amazon/crypto or western union. At this point I already know what's up but let's play along shall we. For amazon i suggested gift cards and OP says yes and I tell OP that isn't possible because i'm doing stuff on amazon and don't want to risk my account. And the reason for paypal was so that I could get an invoice for my accounted because HE does me taxes.

OP starts accusing me that I don't know how an accountant works which is funny coming from a student who still had mid terms a few weeks ago. Anyway I tell him my corporation is like this in MY country but OP thinks business everywhere are all in the same form which just tells me he knows very little of the rest of the world.

Then he tells me that the method is unique to him and his team but in his other sales thread he had to warn his buyers he wouldn't be available because of his mid terms.

I thought you had a team?

I'm thankful I trusted my gut feeling and didn't buy because this guy was going to royally screw with no refund in sight.

Elvira - November 3, 2018, 1:03 am

Talking to OP about this. Looks promising. Don't hesitate to deal with him.

Took a look at this method, and I am proud to say it is the best method I have seen in a long time. Personally, I was shocked when I read it. I've been missing this LITTLE thing for so long. It's super easy to scale, and I expect to see my first earnings today. I will post income proofs later when I am granted the chance. Buy this now if you haven't.

Tor - November 3, 2018, 12:49 pm

Thanks for everyone who's contacted me. I've had the chance to speak with some awesome individuals as well as some ignorant members. This is exactly why this method is being sold on a slot basis. It gets me quite frustrated when members who have no idea what they're talking about start trying to tell me how to operate my work.

If you've ever opened a semi-successful business you'd know that your business is a separate entity which must be respected as such. This means no personal/external transactions on the business account. Why? Because when financial statements are presented to shareholders (bank, angel investor) they will likely turn down any investments/loans since you failed to follow GAAP (generally accepted accounting principals). This is not a matter of where you're located or what your job is, EVERY BUSINESS must present financial statements and if those statements look sketchy you can kiss your sweet business goodbye.

Yes I am still a student, currently studying business management at a prestigious university. This doesn't mean I'm not allowed to think outside the box and go above and beyond. Mark Cuban, my inspiration was running several businessmen during his undergrad. Never settle!

As one of the buyers very very unhappy with Op as there is no group that I was invited to and method in my eyes isn't unique but lets give op the benefit of the doubt, furthermore, op doesn't seem to serious to help and hasn't been responding back, yet I see him active on HF. I was promised an invite to a group which was never done, as well as lackluster support.

The method itself is basically a method which allows you to sell a service which is already being sold as a service on HF & other sites, will not go into what it is exactly in order to be respectful to ops sales thread. But I don't see at all how you can make $400 USD a day, unless op can show or convince me otherwise I am even fine with 100 usd a day at least something. I would urge as of now for the op to just refund me as I have waited quite some time for the op to free up to talk to me and it seems op is busy all the time.

Don't get me wrong when we talk op seems to be a nice dude but seems to be flaky, but at the end of the day I did not get what I pay for.

Would not buy this as of now.

Well, seems some user above saying the truth when mentioned you dont know much about financial/legal stuffs from other countries.

Specifically about PayPal(as was stated).

Just to let you know, in my county doesnt exist any law about presenting financial statements at all when PayPal/Payoneer, etc etc are involve.

And can tell you about at least 4 bordering countries with same non-existent laws about online service payments.

My lord, what an ignorant and special character you are. If you knew anything about successfully running a business you would know that financial statements are used to show the assets, liabilities and equity a business has. Receiving money via PayPal is one way my business takes money in. When you receive money, you are increasing revenue which is ultimately a part of equity (profits>retained earnings>equity). Now imagine I went to an investor/bank for a loan to better my business and they suddenly see that I have random revenue coming in that doesn't pertain to the business.

An average member such as yourself making simple money doesn't have to worry about these things because it's not relevant. Maybe one day when you're in my league you will understand. ?
