Thread: eWhore Traffic Source - \$350 A Month - Guaranteed \$\$

carcoosa - November 5, 2018, 8:24 pm

I own an adult traffic source that brings in 55k+ unique visitors in a month, Snapchat related only currently.

I have a "Verified Snapchat list" on the source. I am selling 5 spots on the list for $350 a month as I cannot handle that many Snaps as I am busy with school. I have trusted members I have worked with that can vouch for this list, you will make your money back in a week tops if you know what you're doing.

Trial(Two weeks) - $200 Bitcoin or Amazon GC
$350/M ~~ Bitcoin or Amazon GC only.

If you're serious you can message me for more information. Traffic increases every month, has never decreased.

Vouch of a trusted member who has worked with my source in the past:

(Nov 9, 2018 09:03 AM)Reptarp Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) OP isn't lying it's real traffic. You have to know what you're doing though. Steady traffic doesn't equal money it just means you have work to do.

I could have earned a lot more if I did traditional ewhoring but I am doing cpa on auto pilot so I literally have to do no work. The traffic is great and very responsive to stories, any serious ewhore with time to actually talk and sell to the people who add them on snapchat will make bank.

The seller has been nothing but responsive to my inquiries. I accidentally send him to much money and he immediately sent it back. I fucked up a couple times when actually using the traffic source and he helped me again and again without any complaints. The first model I used was apparently famous and he warned me that it might not work because apparently everybody but me knows her.

The price is quite steep but if you are already able to properly ewhore on snapchat this source won't be a problem for you.

I mean I'm 100% interested in buying a spot but idk how to trust. Like u can disappear after selling 5x350 spots. Obviously not saying u are a scammer or whatever but how can u assure u will keep up the thing if paid whether 200 or 350..?

Once you show proof of funds I can show you my source that I own if you're trusted, you will see how long I have had this for and how consistent my traffic is, I already have one buyer like I said so I am waiting for his vouch. I plan on selling 5 spots monthly why would I scam? My traffic only grows and has been for the past 9 months (based on my statistics). Not one month did I have stats lower than the previous month.

Also, hence why I don't sell 10 spots, or 20. As 5 spots at a decent price will not make this saturated as for the past 9 months I have had 3-5 snaps on the list at all times.

User says I am unresponsive but I respond within an hour, I can not answer every second of the day, sorry I have other things to do.

User was told to posts stories as my traffic will not pay for people who don't post on stories as that is what they're here for, there is other eWhorers who posts story and are active, obviously they will choose to pay those people instead.

User has a small pack, this is not my issue. I guarantee traffic and that is what I delivered, user even admitted via discord that traffic is up to par, him not being able to make money is none of my business. I tried working it out several times, he insists that I am 'capping' and not helping him with anything.

He got more than 3k+ adds in 5 days, if you can't make money out of that you're not meant to be eWhoring.

His post got 6,000 views + not including my list.

If you looked up in the thread instead of troll, you'd see I said I vouched cause you asked me to and traffic did come in but it's saturated. And stop leading people on and making them think you have a website with some ultra secretive source. Being a mod on r/Snapchatsext doesn't make you owner of a website nor does it make you owner of Reddit. Anyone could go there and sign up. And people could pay and that shit get closed down, but they'd have to figure what they'd do cuz you as you said " I never stated I issued refunds".

I have bought this service and I am happy with it. I have bought the 2 weeks trial and earned 120$ so far with it in 3 days. I could have earned a lot more if I did traditional ewhoring but I am doing cpa on auto pilot so I literally have to do no work. The traffic is great and very responsive to stories, any serious ewhore with time to actually talk and sell to the people who add them on snapchat will make bank.

The seller has been nothing but responsive to my inquiries. I accidentally send him to much money and he immediately sent it back. I fucked up a couple times when actually using the traffic source and he helped me again and again without any complaints. Yeah that's great and I'm happy for you but I just didn't like it. And I even offered halfway that he could keep the days I used even though I never made any money. What a joke.You sound like a child.

I've purchased a spot from carcossa and I've gotten a shit ton of adds from the service in the first day alone, he's a stand up guy selling a legitimate service. Everything is a described. Just because you're unable to e-whore properly and profit from it doesn't mean that the service is bad, it just means you don't have the proper social engineering skills to work with the traffic.

Quit bombarding this poor mans thread with your low-quality comments.

Dude everytime I post proof about dude lying he sends shills in here. This is exhausting af. Lq? I posted evidence...proof..how is that lq? Who are you btw? ?

He rips me off I'm supposed to take it up with you now? Man gtfo. No clue who you are and you could be his friend that he started a contract with to make it legit. Right after I disputed all these 'customers' started coming in.

And why did you even come? You just let everyone know you made the same mistake I did and paid $350 to sign up for a subreddit anyone could go on. Dude's a pos.

Usually, being "toxic" or rude doesn't justify discontinuing a service. For example, if I contact namecheap support and be rude for the server downtime during maintainance time, they won't discontinue my hosting. They will just ignore the negativity I am giving and give me some copy/paste replies. And if I was bugging them for refunds, they would just give me a link to their tos again and again, but they wouldn't cancel the service. Imo, you should just give the buyer a place in the list he paid for and end it there.

Exactly! Thank you. I wasn't even toxic. All I said was I just didn't like the service and if he could just refund the days remaining. Any other person would ask for the full refund even after using. Am I right? But no all he did was talk shit and laugh and troll. So I opened a dispute then he starts acting like I'm the one in the wrong and am "toxic" and "broke". Tf? Even after all that he did I still asked for a refund and all he did was post YouTube songs as a reply. Dude's a joke.

And now that I think about it I don't want a place on some 'list'? Why am I paying to go on a public subreddit? At first when he told me I was skeptical but now that I'm thinking about it it's stupid af. No one should.

I've been e-whoring since June and I've never come across a source of traffic that gets me 200-300 adds a day until I used this service and his sub-reddit. You're paying because he is the owner of the sub-reddit and you are being put on a "verified" list that gets thousands of views a day, which only he can do. I challenge you to find me a public source where you can get similar amounts of traffic for free. You can't.

Pretty sure I read in one of the screenshots that you no longer wanted anything to do with the service so therefore he removed you. Then you claim that he scammed you but yet, you're sitting here saying that you don't even to be placed on the list? Your replies are giving me brain damage. You're sure going hard for a bystander. He's been offline for awhile too.... hmmm? Nah couldn't be.

I guess you just browsed past the part where I said I wanted to be removed AND issued a refund. He was insisting that I stay hence I said no I wanted to be removed from the list and just send my payment back.

This is a bad comparison, why? Because leaving a false review about Namecheap cannot hurt their business whereas a small one like mine may alter a few people away, even though it's been doing the exact opposite.

Hope you understand why I'm doing this, and he will not be put back up on the list. I'd rather him open a deal dispute.
