Guys, I actually died watching this. Most twisted horror movie ever. Watch it.

Cyam - November 7, 2018, 11:00 am

I can't say that it's not scary, however I can't say it got me shaking as well.

Maybe cause all I watch are horrors so I'm kinda used to it.

I just never understood the ending, can you explain it for me?

Damn havent seen this film yet, was wondering if it was good or not.

Might watch it stoned tonight

TheGoldenRelik - November 7, 2018, 11:03 am

I got scared when I saw the exorcist in the age of 12.

Now, very few movies scare me

It's the scariest movie I've watched in all 21 years of my existence. It's worth it. Trust

Evil Dead was pretty scary to me when I was a kid, I didn't go to the bathroom for much long. Now I don't get scared from movies anymore!

Which movie are you talking about?

noname12345 - November 8, 2018, 9:19 am

I meant to say this wasn't that scary. The movie was ok. Lol I was drunk when I typed that

Do you even read the thread before replying?

Hereditary is one of the scariest films you can see, none of that jump scare bullshit (although Insidious 1 & 2 are good)

Didn't even see that was your pick, so I guess.. we agree!

Ah definitely! Couldn't agree more. Insidious was pretty good the first time I watched it!

And 100% on that jump scare shit. I feel like most horrors today are over doing it.

I love film and have rated nearly 650 titles on iMDB.

Some others I'd recommend if you liked Hereditary are

Get Out
A Quiet Place
Take Shelter
Bone Tomahawk

I'm sure you've seen some of if not all of 'em.

None of the films really scare me. Seen hereditary, Conjuring series, Annabelle series, evil dead series, and others. Will keep checking this topic. Maybe I 'll find something really scary.
