Description:

DMed me offering me an AGC, I accepted (He looked legit with his join date, etc.)

He saw me offering to buy an AGC from another guy for 70%, Kream then DMs me saying he has a $100 giftcard he'd sell for 70%. He has been a registered member since 2015 and had positive rep, so I thought he's legit.

Sorry for your loss, you got scammed.

But why is this user still a member if he is scamming?

I'm waiting for him to give me a agc. I feel scammed now.

Why is this user not blocked?

Because people dont use contracts when buying from him, if you dont have a contract the admins cant/wont ban him, the best advice when selling/buying on hf is to use a contract, even for a 5$ deal.

Also remember if you want to to deal with anyone here, make sure you search their UserID (UID) to check if they have any disputes ongoing.

To find a members UID, simply click on their profile and copy the last part of the link which will look like this "uid=4044006" (I used your UID in this example)

To OP, you should really put the users UID in your thread topic so this will pop up when you search his uid. :)
