Where are you advertising this? Also, you did a pretty good job in covering the website as a whole, so kudos.

Well fuck fortunate, i'll get my friend to do my video with me IRL lmao

SIM-964740 - November 11, 2018, 12:25 am

Wonderful video, you made it fairly engaging with the quickcuts and effects. Well done.

It's a contest for a reason :) Can't keep your fingers in all the cookie jars just to win a share of everything.

Very professional man, how did you get that theme for the different user bars if you don't mind me asking.

1. You post the video on that thread.
2. Wrong forum.

"Check Out My HF Advertisement Video!"

shouldnt it be "Check Out OUR HF Advertisement Video!"

i mean i dont really see your part in this to be honest other than the script project management is important but i wouldnt label this as your's the entire video wouldn't exist lol. That's like saying the founder of a company has nothing to do with the company because he doesn't go in every day.

I thought of the idea, wrote the script, found the narrator and video editor on my own, and even if this award didn't come out, I would have still posted the video. I didn't have the skill set to complete it on my own, so I took the incentive and went out to find people who could help me.

ok i understand ur point, but if you could get the award, dont you think the other members included deserve it too?

i mean anyone could come up with an idea like that and others will, it is not unique im sure computer and fortunate wouldnt have help you if it would not be in for the award and then ur claiming like its yours taking most of the credit?

does that make sense its a group project over all its a group project over allThey most likely will get it, and this was discussed with each of them beforehand. Fortunate asked Omni if we could all get the award prior to starting work on it. Go check the submission and tell me I took most of the credit. I wrote a whole bit about how helpful they both were.
