How are you figuring that these awards are worth over $200 each? No awards have been selling in terms of volume that is allowing for true valuations to be established. I'm curious - enlighten me. ?

And how are you figuring out that these awards will sell for a measly $50?

They do nothing other than look pretty on your account. No use, purpose nor utility at all.

I was offering, nothing more. You chose not to accept which is cool with me.

Best of luck, Shutdown.

I've been scouring the forums for sold awards and have seen a couple of awards being sold for paltry amounts. i.e., YT award for $50.
