Thread: Can we sell Physical Items Here?

Are we allowed to sell Physical Items here?

I'd like to sell some Physical Art to make some money.

Are we allowed to? Going by basic logic I wouldn't ask but, due to those new Terms of Service changes or whatever everyone has been updating that aims to keep people from leaking their identity (I think that's the case) I feel I should ask first.

In the past I've sold tons of physical items. I don't see how it would be an issue. However, If it is one now due to changes, Would eBay be allowed for protection for both parties?

Yes you can.

Only some products like Apple, kindle, are banned.

Yeah definitely, that actually sounds like an easier way of going about organizing the sells.

But yeah hopefully it isn't an issue.

Yeah? Hopefully, well I'll wait for a staff response.

What type of artwork do you do, I'm interested in spicing my room up, and my garage man cave

Saw this on another post asking the same question Last Year in December, but I'm not sure how it fairs with the new GDPR or whatever

I can do pretty much anything, I specialize in Comic/Manga art but I can also do Graffiti, Portraits, Logos, Custom ideas etc.

You're fine to do it, as long as it's no anime paintings.
