Google has their official ad page up for Black Friday and Cyber Monday 2018 now.

For those wondering, the deals pretty much match the ones put out a few days ago by the major android news sites.

Thanks for sharing. A lot of good deals but funny enough, there are sellers here who are charging next to nothing for some of the same products.

That has nothing to do with Black Friday though. That's just a downside of living where ever you do.
