Thread: 12 year old set herself on fire for likes?

MissPothead - November 18, 2018, 11:37 am

Why though?

Kids Are Setting Themselves On Fire To 'Boost Online Profiles'

Pronouncer - November 18, 2018, 11:38 am

This is why the world is fucked up.

ZIKO000 - November 18, 2018, 11:39 am

humans are getting dumber by the day, i fear for the next generation who are going to rule the world.

MissPothead - November 18, 2018, 11:39 am

Whoever is coming up with these "challenges" needs to be put in jail

cheeseybean33 - November 18, 2018, 11:40 am

yeah thats really fucked up they so dumb fr

Sleep - November 18, 2018, 11:47 am

This seems so fucked. Why would someone ever think that it could be fun?

No, the people that are doing these challenges need to wake up.

FriendZone - November 18, 2018, 11:57 am

I would say "Darwin selection " in a first moment.

Then, I realize that a 12 y old is probably influenced by the world around him, isn't only his fault if he is dumb, we are doing nothing to prevent this. Instead we watch, we talk about it, we like it or dislike it, but in any case we give money to this fucked system.

Mafty Navue Erin - November 18, 2018, 11:59 am

When I was a kid I used to set myself on fire for fun, not for likes. Kids these days lol.

reBELLYus - November 18, 2018, 12:01 pm

An attention seeking tactic that does nothing but produce devastation for not only your body but those around you too.

realsunjester - November 18, 2018, 12:07 pm

Yes, I hope more people do it, we need to weed the dumb ones out. Let's face it, if youre dumb enough to pour flammable fluid on your body and set it on fire, you should probably be euthanized.

giwrgosev - November 18, 2018, 12:07 pm

What is wrong with this generation.

mycatisadog - November 18, 2018, 2:56 pm

This pretty much sums natural selection up in one news story.

Wave Digital - November 18, 2018, 3:18 pm

I want to sit here and say this is crazy but I set my hand on fire with a few drops of Isopropyl alcohol the other day while doing some work around the house for shits and giggles and I'd be willing to wager most young boys have played with fire between the age 9-14.

Only thing new is they're all able to apply peer pressure to each other from inside their own homes instantly.

We used to put gasoline on tennis balls and kick them around on fire for some fucked up reason. Also the rubbing alcohol thing and hair spraying melting GI joes...

deltaone - November 18, 2018, 4:29 pm

im sorry but she looks 25

Hornbuckle - November 18, 2018, 6:23 pm

I just dont get how people think doing physical damage to yourself for likes on social media is worth it. I cant wrap my head around it.

SIM-3257834 - November 18, 2018, 9:17 pm

Too bad due to modern medicine and technology the stupid can live longer. Go back 100 years and she'd be dead.

PerfectStorm - November 18, 2018, 9:21 pm

Yeahp one of those stupid "challenges" going around.

Tilcayo - November 19, 2018, 12:01 am

This is bad, there have been alot of similar things like this that kids do and some of them sadly passed away in the process, like the "strangle game" or whatever its called for example, where they strangle themselves with their school tie or something to get a "high" or buzz from it?... a 13 yearold kid near where i live died through this so called "game", things like this need to stop ASAP.

SIM-4018496 - November 19, 2018, 12:12 am smartphone dumb people its been like that since the the first iphone people just became obsessed with the social media life and the up to date phones

God bless

Dope - November 19, 2018, 1:09 am

I mean she will get what she wants and I think that's also a problem. Anyways I think it's very common nowadays that people do things for likes. Maybe a few years ago they wouldn't do it for the likes but money/food.

BlackFriday69er - November 19, 2018, 3:39 am

Thing is there are people out there that will do pretty much anything to be accepted in this day and age. Now you should ask yourselves, are the generation getting stupider or is people's veiws on how we should life our live since all this technology changed the way we think and act noname12345 - November 19, 2018, 10:25 pm

this is like that blue whale challenge thing kids are dumb these days no common sense

falkenburry - November 19, 2018, 11:04 pm

natural selection at the finest

CyberError - November 19, 2018, 11:23 pm

Dann , teenagers are getting mad for social media now days , damn glad that am on HF

Who Soup - November 19, 2018, 11:24 pm

I used to set myself on fire when I was 12 for 0 likes.

BlackFriday69er - November 20, 2018, 1:45 am

Seriously what is this world coming to, for people to start doing that for bloody likes??

Like I know there's some really odd people out there that would do pretty much anything, (you'd have to be insane in my eyes though), but playing with fire is just stupidity.

I really don't get this generation these days, they baffle me

Windows2016 - November 20, 2018, 2:32 am

Why not set fire on your friend, well its crime but youll be famous lol

Same. These kind of things just prove it. Hopefully I won't be around by then.

Fish - November 20, 2018, 10:18 am

Why. This is so messed up, why would anyone do this...

Ovidiu - November 20, 2018, 10:28 am

I'd blame the parents for making her end up like that.

Berston - November 20, 2018, 10:28 pm

????????????? ?????? ? ???

xuzum - November 21, 2018, 1:11 am

This is what is wrong with our society.

jobhip - November 21, 2018, 8:11 am

Wtf is wrong with people? Then again some of my friends would probably try this too...

Skull-13 - November 21, 2018, 8:17 am

I do not know what is happening in this world. Now a days a lot of people cares about nothing.

BloodCyka - November 21, 2018, 8:26 am i just dont get it, why dont she bought the likes lol.

gosson67 - November 21, 2018, 10:41 am

humans are getting dumber by the day, i fear for the next generation who are going to rule the world.

Calibur - November 21, 2018, 12:38 pm

They just keep on getting dumber & dumber.

When energy runs out the problem will fix itself

Yin Yang - November 21, 2018, 1:03 pm

God help with the children of the world, for they are our future

Xycon - November 21, 2018, 5:46 pm

I am glad me and my girl don't have kids, wouldn't want them to feel all alone without friends seeing as there would pretty much only be morons.

And if they supposed to be the "future" generation, our new leaders and what not, with them in charge this global warming etc. will only increase possibly even exponentially instead of decrease and in 250 years humans be extinct ...

Quick philosophical thought ... people always wonder who comes up with these challenges, and trying to call out to stop them.

But really ... It might be the only way to save the future if we can get rid of the idiots before its too late.

Jombah - November 23, 2018, 1:57 pm

So desperate for attention lol

`KSI - November 24, 2018, 2:33 pm

Natural selection is doing its' job.

Soul - November 24, 2018, 3:21 pm

I can't believe kids are doing stupid shit like this just for "clout"

Blogger - November 24, 2018, 10:29 pm

The negative side effects of technology. People are too concerned about likes on social media.

(Nov 18, 2018 12:39 PM)Pinky Promise Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Whoever is coming up with these "challenges" needs to be put in jail

Isn't it kind of more sad that people are actually doing it?

If I made a challenge saying he go kill yourself and then people actually did it who's fault is that really?

Richard Bach - November 29, 2018, 9:13 pm

Bibimbap - November 30, 2018, 2:29 am

Social media addiction is a national epidemic. It's simple human psychology of how social media really affects the brain. It's a reward cycle, you get a rush of dopamine every time you receive a like or a positive reinforcement on social media. This is why I was never fond of social media apps. Just like any other addiction, it is detrimental when you do not have an optimal balance of it.

zFacetious - November 30, 2018, 8:15 am

Eating laundry soap, eating spoon fulls of cinnamon, dumping ice water on their heads, setting themselves on fire. This friends is natural selection finally starting to weed out the unneeded.

elkinson888 - November 30, 2018, 10:31 am

You forgot the whole tide pod debacle--which was somehow January of this year instead of the ancient history it feels like to me ?

Mix - November 30, 2018, 2:19 pm

This is just getting worse fire typods and now setting them self on fire.... COME ON WORLD!

fraxgg - December 3, 2018, 4:00 am natural selection working its wonders, no but literally this shit is fucking stupid.

deerdeer77 - December 3, 2018, 10:34 am do it for the grammmm apparently...

Pow3r - December 3, 2018, 1:45 pm

Just think, in a few years retards like this will be allowed to vote and have a say in matters of importance... Fucking great that isn't it.

Zyber Linux - December 3, 2018, 2:46 pm

I'm not gonna lie, the internet has a big impact on what people do. But money also has a big impact. I bet if you walked down the street and asked a person if they would kill someone for 1 million dollars, i bet 60% would say yes.
