Thread: Is here anyone who watched whole Naruto, Bleach, One Piece, Fairy Tail?

AikoSphere - November 19, 2018, 1:40 am

I watched only Naruto from these. Many people suggest me these but they have too much episodes and i dont know if it is worth to watch. I liked Naruto very much one of the best, because i could say i was growing up with that anime, and you were able to see his whole progress his whole life. So question is if you watched any of mentioned in title. Is there any better for you than Naruto?

Anova - November 19, 2018, 2:18 am

I've only watched Fairy Tale in it's entirety. I'm a bit into Naruto and One Piece, but haven't had the time to commit to them more.

bananachocobo - November 19, 2018, 2:21 am

I'm watching Naruto right now. I download the episode and play it in our TV. Completed Naruto and I am now at Episode 344 of Naruto Shippuden.

So you say Fairy Tail is great? Would you be able to compare it to something?

Pretmania - November 19, 2018, 10:27 pm

I'm a One Piece holic, it's very recommended anime to watch

N1ghtm4re - November 20, 2018, 12:50 am

I watched Bleach in its entirety Twice, and I love it. I personally prefer Bleach over Naruto but that's just me.

Although, I'll say Naruto does have more to offer I guess but Bleach just speaks to me more than DBZ, Fairy Tail, or Naruto (like I said just my opinion)

I'd definitely recommend checking it out. It's quite enjoyable if you enjoy the first few episodes you'll love the rest of the series.

Edit:

I've also watched all of Fairy Tail, and it's not super shit like everyone says. Just ignore anyone saying that, they're just d*ck riders that's all.

In terms of blood and murder like DBZ, Naruto, or Bleach you won't get much of that with Fairy Tail but the fights and humor can be somewhat entertaining. If you're just looking of for something decent to watch then I'd recommend it. It starts getting more thrilling to me during the Tartaros arc.

Shadowek87 - November 20, 2018, 11:20 am i watched all of that what u mentioned in topic xD , Fairy Tail is going to be final now

gosson67 - November 21, 2018, 10:35 am no watching you ?.....

Blue Moon - November 21, 2018, 10:42 am

I couldn't get into Fairy Tail, it just seemed like the same thing over and over with very little development.

I did however watch all of Bleach and Naruto + Shippuden.

I haven't even thought about touching One Piece

dracx - November 24, 2018, 7:11 pm

I watched the whole naruto eps. almost 500. But I haven't finished boruto yet, quite busy lately.

Wizzay - November 25, 2018, 1:43 pm

Watched all of them fully. Worth it, I like Bleach and Naruto most. One piece still ongoing, but slow pace. Fairy tail just got a new season, like it so far. Im sad Bleach was stopped.

Pyro - November 25, 2018, 6:57 pm

One of my best friends saw like 99% of all animes out there

† S A V A G E † - November 26, 2018, 9:06 am

Yes, I watched the whole Bleach and it's pretty good ?

LoveOverFear - December 19, 2018, 2:32 pm

Yeah i watched all of naruto, its a classic, damn

DaGeekin - December 26, 2018, 11:12 am

One piece is so long but The art style is amazing. There is always the movies that are overviews of the arcs throughout the series that speed things up.

KazukeKirishima - January 3, 2019, 1:00 am

I'm on the latest episode of One Piece and I've started from episode 1 but right now the progress is going slow so it's kinda boring somehow. JoJo's Bizarre Adventure: Golden Wind is also a nice anime.

AceThePhoenix - January 24, 2019, 6:08 am

Your search has ended. Thats me.

Naruto

Dragon ball

Bleach

Fairy tail

Death note

One piece

Full metal Alchemist

Made into abyss

And the list goes on.

007 - January 24, 2019, 10:47 am

Back when I was younger I watched naruto and fairy tail, liked both of them. The thing I like least about them is that it almost always has a happy ending.

Soulmate~?? - January 24, 2019, 5:49 pm

I have never watched any of these series, mainly for the same reason as you

LoveOverFear - January 24, 2019, 5:51 pm

Used to watch Naruto, currently watching one piece.

Grey Hat Mafia - January 24, 2019, 6:15 pm

I've watched naruto, naruto shippuden, and am no own on boruto (kinda meh). Bleach and One Piece. I've only watched like 200 episodes of fairy tail. Original Naruto was good but got kinda boring in the strike chase arc. Shippuden was a lot of flash backs but the only ninja war was cool. Bleach literally was I have every power and then one, liked it but after the arancar arc it was meh. One piece ofcourse the war for ace was epic. And fair tails good but didn't get as into it as the rest. Moral of the story pace yourself.

Necke001 - January 25, 2019, 10:00 am

I watched all watch the Hunter x Hunter

Realizm - January 25, 2019, 1:08 pm

I've seen most of Naruto but towards the end there were so many filler episodes I dropped it. They only made like 30 more episodes or something so maybe one day I'll finish it but they've continued the series with that last movie that is cannon and then Boruto being a series it's not hard to fill in the blanks along with most everywhere I turn is discussions on Naruto. So I know what happens and don't feel a need to finish the series.

I've also seen One Piece up to episode like 700 or something and then picked up the manga and haven't seen an episode since the last arc began (Whole Cake Island).

I saw the first like 4-5 episodes of Fairy Tale and it seemed too childish at first and also way to formulated. Like the special moves used the same 10 second intro that just got old after the third time seeing the move used. I felt like I was watching Power Rangers when they do the same dance every time they teamed up against the big bad guy at the end of every episode lol.

As for Bleach, I've seen the first 2 or 3 arcs and dropped it once I hit a filler arc. I'm thinking of picking the show back up and just skip the filler arc as I wasn't really caring for the lack of progression with the characters. One of the longest stretches of episodes I can remember that didn't include like any character building or main story progression...

The Bount or whatever Arc actually helped progress Ichigo a lot so I wouldn't recommend Skipping it, it's not Only filler. But, if you only watch for the Fighting then feel free to Skip it (although you'll miss out on some cool fights, too.)

Redness - January 27, 2019, 2:07 am

I watched the whole One piece, but not Naruto or Fairy Tale

No you didn't as one piece is still on going.

wintermint1 - January 27, 2019, 4:05 pm

i watched the whole naruto. but didnt finish the entire shippuden one

I liked one piece

Astrogen - January 27, 2019, 10:04 pm

I haven't watched all of them fully. I tried to watch One Piece but I failed to catch up.

ShopifyMaster - January 30, 2019, 2:43 pm

Skimmed fairytale and never finished it and naruto got kinda boring later once the psychological tactics of the combat kinda began to take a back seat to super powered moves. One piece is by far my favorite but the anime is so badly paced and the dgitally colered manga is the best way to see it as the love of the original characters art is so much better. Bleach Meh.

Dax - January 30, 2019, 2:47 pm

Well, the only anime that I watched from start to end was Naruto. And that is my favorite anime. Currently don't have time to watch any of the above that you mentioned. Itachi ftw!

Silver Fang - January 30, 2019, 7:08 pm

Whoever watched the entire One Piece should receive a medal.

jcarlos17 - January 31, 2019, 6:17 am

I watched Naruto and Naruto Shippuden completely, but stopped watching Boruto after 40 or 50 episodes I think.

I'm currently watching Fairy Tail (last episodes).

I started watching Bleach and One Piece years ago, but the first episodes didn't get my attention.

summit - February 5, 2019, 9:27 pm

If it's just those other three, One Piece is better than them all, no doubt.

Naruto is in second place.

Bleach is "ok". Many don't like how it deviated from its "exorcist swordsmen" roots to become a typical Shonen. The Espada were definitely the highlight.

I've never watched Fairy Tail.

mrabdoxxx1 - February 10, 2019, 11:08 am

that's me bro and I have also completed the manga

Kns12 - February 22, 2019, 2:18 pm

Have fully watched Naruto, Naruto Shippuden and bleach. Haven't gotten around to the other two but always hear positive things
