Thread: Editing thread suggestion for marketplace

The Original - November 23, 2018, 11:46 am

I noticed something today.i have a marketplace thread <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5629404> and im selling a hosting service.i was editting it just fine 1 month ago but right now i can't.i think marketplace threads should be editable forever because its a sale thread seller can make price change or limited discount.sometimes new type of product or limited product comes or blackfriday like today so i think marketplace threads must have that privilege

You can purchase a sticky or a sales tag to remove the limit on how far back in time you can edit your threads. Also, Vendors have no edit time limit either.
