No, not black friday.

The gov rises taxes on fuel, a little.

Basically, gov increased fuel price and stuff, so people are angry (it's like an accumulation. They increase this, that, this, etc... so at one point people start getting angry), so they're manifesting. BUT as every manifestation, some assholes come and start destroying things, burning things, etc. It's like that all the time.

a323109 - November 24, 2018, 9:44 am

Fuel is still less expensive in France than in Italy.

jesuschristisfake - November 24, 2018, 10:03 am

I can't believe I'm watching him pointing camera at a bunch of random people for like 20 minutes

That's funny cause most of ppl doing these manifestations are French people.

Try again!

Yes, you are right. I see too many tv channels from satellite, like 3k, most are news channels. A lot are crypted. Too many to remember the details about them.

Although RT is in favourite list with CNN International, Press Tv, DW...

ashrafohm - November 25, 2018, 6:19 am now i believe in conspiracy theory

it's not a coincidence when you find a trouble in every country the day after the other

I'm sure something is running behind the scenes like cold war

World War III is taking place for a long time

Yes exactly but this time not by missiles and tanks, it's kind of self destruction

letting every country destroy itself then after the whole world become too weak to resist, then they start attack so simply (don't have to say which country do I mean by "They") simply you can find which country doesn't destruct itself but wish to destruct others
