Il be fighting the deal dispute, hopefully I win, but it's charged back as a unauthorized payment and he said that he bought a credit card and used that on the account so I think I'll most likely lose...

Sucks to hear man... Did he pay with F&F?

So I might win the chargeback, not 100% sure since he charged back through his credit card company most likely.

Anyways I'm just getting this out there to make it harder for him to scam others. $50 isn't a big deal but I heard other members say that he also scammed them for bigger amounts, since there's no scam reports of that yet It's just speculation so far.

Be sure to leave a negative b rating and open a dispute on the contract bruh. Looks legit, sorry for your loss. It's only 50 bucks would be sad if he cant make right on it lmao

He's been exchanging quite a bit in the currency exchange section. I did multiple exchanges with him unfortunately, he used different PP's for each of them.
Let's see if he opens more disputes on me or if it stays with this one.

You forgot to leave the negative b rating bro.

He is still trying to exchange this instead of resolving this shit. That's fucked up.
