Just a warning to anyone who has seen this moron trying to scam unsuspecting people.

Profiles involved:

<https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=2872174>

Some of the fake sales threads this user has made across the different profiles:

A few minutes of reading all the "vouches" from this multis shows you he is the same person, vouching his own fake products to generate scam sales.

Just alerting the community, don't fall for this morons ploys.

I could've sworn you did, but maybe I'm mistaken. He had multiple bash him about that call.

Stop blacken my name.

First of all I was disabled 24 hours to post for an infraction about comment in threads for bytes (Of course I'll will not do it anymore, I didn't know it was against rules)

Second the OP ignored me when I said him to put my name out of this and say that I'm not involved, after that he put me in ignore list, how unprofessional.

I don't have relations with these people that he mentioned, I just got paid in bytes for comment in some threads, not vouching just comment.

Proof of my thread offering commenting, closed now:

Screenshot of bytes received:

I just commented that looks good, not vouched though.
NEVER VOUCHED NOTHING.

Stop trying to be Sherlock Holmes and accuse people of scammers without a proof. (That's for me, I don't know who're the other people and if they're or not)

You have repeatedly repped and vouched for the same user who uses a gang of multis to scam, if you're not involved you're just stupid as fuck, either way wise up kid.

I'm certain he is involved.

Ive sent a PM to admins a few weeks back regarding Qcode and R4A1 being multiaccounts, scamming people in a monetizing thread since the buyers never recieved the product they paid for, fake vouching in "each others" threads and buying vouches for bytes, hopefully "they" will be closed soon. :)

Yeap, i've gotten pms from most of the accounts stating they were simply paid in bits to vouch for the threads, which did happen but it's all the same person doing it lol.
