Thread: I made goodbye thread and got perma banned, can I ask for unban?

---- please dont ban -----

Half year ago or so I made a thread about leaving HF for good on my First and Only account:
hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5877378

But that was bad decision as I was weak mentally in that point of my life. Anyway I got banned on that account so i dont have the urge to come back (like a lot of people do after goodbye threads).

I had few months break, after which I created new account:
hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=4052852

I believe This one got banned for ban evading (along with permabanning my home IP).

But is it really ban evading if the first ban was only because i made a "goodbye for eternity" thread?

I mean I agree with mods decision, and with that I am responsible for my wording and what I write here but It was very bad moment for me in my life, as my gf left me and i felt into deep depression.

Can I ask for unban (of my first acc and IP)? please

Seems like your most recent account was closed for being a troll. In that case this account will be considered ban evading.
