Thread: Donation Awards Retired and Replaced

Omniscient - November 28, 2018, 8:36 pm

I mentioned this a couple weeks ago when I removed a handful of donation awards. I have now removed almost all donation awards with the exception of the Ace of Spades.

The awards removed:

DarkDash
Litecoinage
Emerald
Etherist
BTCash
Bitcoinage
Rich Bitch
Gift
Legalize It
Benefactor
Master Donator
Grand Amethyst

The awards added are:

50 Star
75 Star
100 Star
250 Star
500 Star
Heart of HF

You may be asking why? Many of these awards have been on the site for years. Some of them for a decade. I only allow each member to buy one of each of the donation awards. I wanted to freshen up the donation page and just replacing one or two at a time didn't feel like really overhauling our donation awards. With new awards I think this will entice newer members to differentiate themselves with the modern awards. Part of having awards is showing off your profile. I really hope you guys like the images I have chosen.

I know this will be asked. Will the old donation awards be available in the Awards Market? Possibly some day but no guarantees they will or when they will. I also plan on rotating the donation awards more often now which should create a rarity for them and when/if they go to the award market that should increase their value to other members.

All the new donation awards should not be available for purchase on the regular donation page.

If by chance you don't see the award images you probably have a cache that needs to be refreshed.

Go to these pages in your browser and CTRL+F5.

Might as well add all the crypto ones too. The diamonds/rich bitch/benefactor.. idk bout those

Omniscient - November 28, 2018, 8:41 pm

If I do add any donation awards to the Awards Market it's likely going to be in 6-12 months. There will be a wait.

Also, nice new awards.

I'm liking this new awards change.

Something new on Hack Forums everyday.

I'll be buying a few of these very soon.

DOG - November 28, 2018, 8:49 pm

I love the new awards. looks like a new HF era.

Even the design of each awards is simple and polish !

Time for BTC to go up :p

Looks like I'm gonna have to grab a Red and Blue star to rep Infamous. And to support HF of course. :P

Probably a layer 8 issue, but the new awards are replaced by an identical diamond.

EDIT: I can't read.

Will miss the diamonds, but it'll be nice looking back 5 years from now and seeing the old donor awards.

Good choice for the heart in my opinion. :) I think people who dish that amount out usually have a heart for HF in some way.

Gustav. - November 28, 2018, 9:00 pm

A simple way to solve the cache issue is to add a field with a random number at the end of those two files.

Example

It won't effect the path and as long as that number is updated after each version update everyones css and award images will update without the need to do anything.

Awsome that you done this Omniscient, i wonder how this will look long terms and what other awards we'll see overtime.

Loving the stars. I was wondering why we couldn't sell our donation awards.

I think that will change at one point since you can sell old donations awards such as the XRP, XMR and ZCash awards and the donation awards from 3 days ago are now old aswell so that can change for sure.

He said if they ever get added to the award market, it wouldn't be for atleast 6-12 months from today

Not the biggest fan of the stars because it is similar to the stars below people's names. I'm diggin' the new flow of ideas though. Makes everything seem fresh and new. Honestly, in my ~10 years here, I feel like within the last year to year and a half I've seen the most changes since the 2010-2012.

Nice work Omni.

Waiting... - November 29, 2018, 9:13 am

I think I'd go for Ace of Spades because I want to continue to support the forum and it would look better for me than the cheapest star, since it's black and white. I think you should keep a Bitcoin award too just because it's... well, yeah. Representing each crypto was fun, but at this point it seems like a fad to me and this is a nice simple way to refresh the way people donate. I'd love to see what other limited awards I get the choice of buying in the future.

Kind of what I was thinking. I also thought it was cool the old awards were pretty different and had some "character", but they were implemented over time. And to be fair quite a few were diamonds.

As the forum has grown over the time I have been here, I enjoy seeing new things happening. Forums have just seem to be dying over the years except this one, which still holds such great traffic and content. You are doing well, keeping this old ass forum rocking. I like the new award images and descriptions, maybe one day I'll get the heart if I get fully committed to this site again.

Yeah, been here, going on a little over 8 years soon. This forum used to be the wild west back in the day but it's taking a turn for the best, in my opinion. I like how everything is right now, and the implement ion of alerts was something I've wanted for a LONG time.
