Thread: How do you do the \(spoiler\) thing in posts?

sh4moon - November 30, 2018, 1:42 pm

I wasn't really sure where to post this, so if it's in the wrong place just move or close it. I've looked around a lot and seen people posting links that reveal more of the post. They look like this: (spoiler). I've tried to figure it out several times but couldn't figure it out. Any help would be appreciated.

Thanks. I didn't see that in the Help Docs. If it's not there we should add it.
