Do you push the elevator button more than once?
Do you really believe it makes the elevator faster?

Dotexe - December 2, 2018, 6:16 am

I feel the pain inside you bro :(i'm enjoying myself as well seeing people spam the hell out of it lol

I work in the energy industry, production and distribution of electricity. Therefore i push once, to push more than once is useless.

Agent Shark - December 2, 2018, 6:46 am

Yes, I believe pressing it more than once makes it faster.

Sleep - December 2, 2018, 6:52 am

Spam the shit out of that button, It's more efficient :D

pms - December 2, 2018, 8:15 am

Always push it tree time, i seem to think it gives me more chances of the elevator NOT getting stuck.

Mr. Bean - December 2, 2018, 8:22 am

Smashing it obviously makes it to my floor faster... Just like turning a controller in a racing game helps steering !

Cyber - December 2, 2018, 8:48 am

Are we talking about when you are waiting for the elevator to come down to pick you up? or when you are in the elevator and the door closes?

Michael - December 2, 2018, 8:50 am

Here's a tip for some off you that use elevators a lot:

Quote:The Hacks. If you want to bypass floors that have been selected by other passengers in the elevator: hold your floor button down, and then press the 'door close' button at the same time. The elevator should go straight to your floor, bypassing all the other requested stops.

Zan - December 2, 2018, 9:00 am

No I don't. I push it only once. Also I don't believe it makes it faster, though.

H??????a X™ - December 2, 2018, 9:02 am

I smash it really hard, just so I know I made the correct choice.

Fish - December 2, 2018, 9:04 am

Sometimes, the light might be broken and I'm just double checking. One time the button was broken though... I pushed it a good 10 times and nothing came for 10 minutes, just took the stairs down

Tsach3vTP - December 2, 2018, 9:05 am

Imao in the UK when im waiting for the traffic light I just spam the fk out of it. I feel like green comes on faster that way.

Bacardi Cola Lime - December 2, 2018, 9:28 am

I used to but now that I'm a mature human being I get triggered when I see people doing it and I feel the need to explain to them why they shouldn't cause it's useless.

SwimmingPool - December 2, 2018, 9:49 am

I push it once with my elbow, I don't wanna touch that dirty button.

Deany - December 2, 2018, 9:50 am

Yes, I have a spazz attack on them buttons

Flaxpicker - December 2, 2018, 1:23 pm

No, and I hate the people who think pressing it more than once makes it faster

Dope - December 2, 2018, 2:19 pm

I actually always have to push it more than 1 time because the button tends to not work sometimes :(But I don't believe it makes it go faster hahah

Vyxn - December 2, 2018, 8:01 pm

Spam the elevator button once, got stuck.

Who Soup - December 2, 2018, 8:01 pm

They normally light up when you press it so I only press it once?

Mix - December 2, 2018, 8:02 pm

Nope I press the door button and the floor number, is a know fact that it shuts the doors faster cus when A&E use them they do it to get there faster

Yin Yang - December 2, 2018, 8:07 pm

I usually press the floor button and then the close door button

Gooked - December 2, 2018, 8:09 pm

Glad to see you contributing more pointless threads by the hour to get your post count up. Shit like this should be considered as spam lol

PerfectStorm - December 2, 2018, 8:28 pm

Yeah it makes it go faster than if I didn't.

Pulz - December 2, 2018, 8:32 pm

In some elevators, isn't that the case? Where pressing the button for the floor you wish to go to twice is the same as pressing the 'close-door' button, making you wait less time?

I didn't know this. I probably click 3 times.

I do it every single day living downtown. Do I believe it helps? No. Does it make me feel better? Yes.

CamaroBro - December 2, 2018, 10:07 pm

If there are indicators on the buttons that tell you if the button's been pressed, I press once. If not I just spam that shit to make sure it registers.

Sixen+ - December 2, 2018, 10:08 pm

I spam the button until it's at my floor I can confirm this method works as my elevator always shows up.

xxroses - December 3, 2018, 12:02 am

I don't think it makes it faster but I guess it's a psychological thing

Armada - December 3, 2018, 12:06 am

I nail that damn thing, especially in my girls building.

Do I believe it makes it faster? nope! But its stress relief.

Why do we hit the cross walk flags more than once? we see it light up as we make the request, but hitting it repetitively makes us feel better sub consciously lol

It indeed is, but no it does not make it go faster for sure.

Capital Bra - December 3, 2018, 11:46 am

I only push the button once

I push it few times because I'm nervous, not because its gonna make elevator faster ?

Super - December 3, 2018, 8:10 pm

Yes, I do. I also hit the crosswalk button more than once.

Fact: it makes it go faster.

alnoise - December 3, 2018, 8:54 pm

This reminds me of the old changing the green light to red with a weird combination of presses lol

?nxy - December 3, 2018, 10:03 pm

elevators sketch the shit outta me folks
