Description

So I stupidly brought another BS method 2 months ago after it re-opened for the 2nd time. OP said full refund after 60days if enough effort is put into it and still no earning, I will never trust this BS statement ever again. His BS method is basically finding game hack videos and reuploading to YT and monetising it with cinstaller. It almost got my real YT account banned for life. As such, I am opening this dispute and community alert.

Hope you learned your lesson this time to stay away from eBooks.

Also, no contract was used so you're out of luck, sorry.

PerfectStorm - December 5, 2018, 3:15 am

You need a contract to make a valid dispute

789abc - December 5, 2018, 3:44 am so how do i alert the community here? and what's my next step?

Make a community alert, not dispute. If it wasn't contracted, no justice will be served, sorry. We already had a massive purge of the same re-written guides from that guy whos name starts with V (we shall not speak of him) which I already know people are still selling AFTER omni's warning.

Moving forward contract everything and in general, ebooks arent meant to be followed to the T. More so a concept and an idea, plus maybe some additional information. From there use what you learn and fabricate your own, working, revenue stream for yourself.

Lmaoo, that's silly. This method is highly public and as saturated as you can expect. Sigh, fools be really hustling with shit like this.

Dimeblade - December 5, 2018, 4:07 am

Hey man answer this question please.

Do you fucking this $45 ebook is going to make you rich ? ?

And why the fuck a rich guy earning in so much is going to sell an ebook for $45 ?

Does it make any sense to you ?

The truth is none of these low life scums earn nothing . Then why the fuck they waste time in there marketing thread answering all pms and replies to thread ? ?

Does it still make any sense to you ?

Some guy with popularity from kids or with badges and Upgrade doesnt mean he can be fully trusted or he is really skilled.

man anyone can post threads like such even me with some nice ass $ earning from somewhere people wont look claiming they earn so much and a few extra accounts in hf to make it so legit.

789abc - December 5, 2018, 4:44 am

ok i updated my signature :D

Fzsix - December 5, 2018, 7:30 am

Unfortunately I don't think this is going to change anything. The people who buy these methods often don't do their research, that's just the truth. They're often newer members and are most likely minors. Putting something in your sig isn't going to deter anyone imho but I suppose that's all you can do.

Yep pretty much agree with this. Unfortunate.

That's all bullshit.

You should be able to look up copyrighted works here -

<https://cocatalog.loc.gov/cgi-bin/Pwebrecon.cgi?DB=local&PAGE=First>

Couldn't find anything.

Also, registration numbers must total 12 characters - <http://prntscr.com/lrip8a>, which his doesn't

Hello,

I had to retrieve my HF account for this matter. I have been away from HF for a while due to personal matters, a friend just recently told me about this thread.

First of all, I did NOT scam you, and I can show everyone why.

"It almost got my real YT account banned for life. As such, I am opening this dispute and community alert."

You literally made a new YouTube account for this, how and why are you claiming that your "real" YouTube account will be banned for life?

(1) The method does indeed work, I have shown OP many previous customers that have already earned more than their initial ROI. Proof CAN be given if requested.

My second statement, read my Terms of Service. You agreed to it.

2) Refunds will be given if you will not make money in 60 days for Pro Packages.

You will not be given any refunds IF you will not make ANY money. You made money off it, and you KNOW it works. Seeing from the efforts you placed is nothing compared to the rest. The screenshot you placed literally does not cover the full terms we have discussed.

(I will post proof that he did earn from it)

EDIT: You literally admitted you earned from it..

3) You just literally leaked the method and for everyone that purchased it, which pisses me off very much.

For SoftButFirm, the copyright ID does indeed work, it is from the site <https://www.copyrighted.com/> please check that out.

For literally $32 to compromise my account here, it is ridiculous and bullshit. I will refund you and I will show HF the real truth, I even helped spend my own money rank your videos and you did this to me. Not cool.

applemunch - December 7, 2018, 1:38 am oh, wait so that means OP can go into legal trouble since that's copyrighted and he leaked the method?

Yes technically I can make this into a legal matter,

OP I have refunded you. This whole thing is an INVALID dispute due to MANY variables.

(1) No contracts, whole thread is an INVALID dispute already.

(2) I've refunded you.

(3) Even though you and I know YOU HAVE made money from this and PROBABLY will share this method around that is Digitally Copyrighted, I still gave you a refund because I believe in the good will of this forum.

(4) Breach of Terms of Conditions.

I request you edit your main post as this is an invalid dispute.

No. If this "certificate" is even worth a damn, telling someone what the method is isn't breaching copyright. If I watch a move and then tell you what happened, is that a breach? No. He is fully able to say "This book contains X and Y"

See above.

Correct but I'm sure if this will get leaked with the copy itself I can take this into legal matters.

However, this whole thread is invalid due to me already refunding him plus this thread should be junked as there was no contract.

I got the refund ONLY after I filed a paypal dispute and escalated it for those ppl who doesn't know. ProtectNull sounds as if he willing refunded me which is not.

- 1) I don't want my HF in a bad state.
- 2) You broke the ToS in many ways, which in fact you shouldn't have gotten a refund.
- 3) This whole thing is an invalid dispute, sooner or later this thread WILL be junked.

Even if you escalated the dispute, I would have gone through with it however it is such a low amount.
