Thread: What is the stupidest thing you've ever seen?

TheChaosKiller - December 6, 2018, 7:30 am

Starting this thread because this week so far has been filled with ridiculous things. On Monday, I witnessed a woman punch her boyfriend in the face during an argument in a shopping centre, then claim to everyone around that he hit her despite the fact she'd cut his lip seconds before. It resulted somehow in him being arrested even though we all told what happened; I'm sure he's been let off since but it was infuriating how they ignored us. Yesterday, I saw a pigeon fly into another pigeon midair, didn't even know that was possible considering they're lords of the air, but yeah, poof, big cloud of feathers, two confused pigeons. Today, I got an electric shock off my car battery, went inside to make sure I was okay, and got a mild shock off my phone charger, so I'm basically 90% electricity now. What about you guys?

The corruption of the justice system will be the death of us all.

I must block out stupid because for some reason I can't summon to mind something I consider "The dumbest". I do see a lot of stupid shit on the daily though. I think listening to ignorant people talk about the migrant caravans and the concept of asylum is one of the dumber things I witness day to day.

I have to agree with you on that one, hardly can be called a justice system any longer.

Oh man, could have a full on documentary of stupid if my co-workers were recorded in work place.

Well the stupidest thing I've ever seen is some people, lol.

As to situations- corruption. I'm living in Slovakia atm and the corruption here is around 40% (and these 40% are common knowledge BTW!) So yeah I don't get it. You work your ass off your whole life to then retire and u get like 400€ per month(on average, some people are lucky to get 400).

What is this?! Bullshit country I swear on my life. The worst part is that the citizens don't do shit! Even if you tried to change something everybody would rather be quiet and just do their thing..

I've seen two people trapped in a cardboard box before. Somehow they even managed to tape it shut...

I've seen a friend do a wheelie on ice, he instantly regretted it.

You'd be surprised. Not out of gold.

I know that they cost that much because a family friend was removing the furniture out my job and was also putting in more stools and he told me lol
