Massive vouch for G?df?t??. One of the most trusted users here and very knowledgeable. This twitch bot is the best on HF, always updated and the only 1 that i know of that fully works and stable.

Great tool, GLWS.

Thanks

Purchased Anon Proxy Tool a while back, then spoke with the man himself @godfatha. What a genuine member and person. Honestly, couldn't ask for a more professional experience. I've purchased over 20 tools/programs/ and a ton of ebooks by now, haven't met a single seller who cares so much about what he has to offer. I would purchase anything from him and his team without hesitation. Helped me out at 6am, on Christmas day, and I didn't even ask him to. I simply reached out to him after reading a post regarding the program I was using; Anon Proxy Tool, and from there he decided he could give me a quick rundown and get me familiar. I purchased his twitch bot, badass by the way, and now I'm just about ready to open some new avenues. FujiViews is official!! This is not a vouch copy, this is not a paid review, but a genuine customer who is happy with the service provided. Thank You, Merry Christmas!

There is the option to load users into the viewer list and the view count is very steady but that heavily depends on the proxies you use. The tool does have an account creator function as well as multiple sources for proxies.

How much live viewers at once can you have on a channel?

Assuming you have 5000 proxies can I give a channel 5000 viewers at once?

Also, approximately how much cpu would this use?

If you're asking about live viewers then it's all depending on the proxies that you use. Typically with public proxies you will get around 200 or so live viewers but again it is all about the proxies. Offline views you can bot all day and get to a million if you wish.

The CPU usage is low but that also would be reflected by the amount of threads you are running as well as the CPU that you have. ?

Hello,

I would like to post a small review of the Viewbot.

Now, i have "only" tested it for maybe an hour to 2 hours, but that was enough to decide if i continue using the bot or not.

But first of all, let me tell you something about the advertised features.

Spoiler (Click to View)

"GUI does not freeze"

It does. Might be only some seconds, but it does. Not trying to be picky, but i guess you can say that it doesnt freeze.

"User Friendly Interface"

Not really. To get your proxies checked, you have to start the viewbot, then they get checked, then you have to export them to the proxy scraper and THEN you can check them. After that, you have to stop the viewbot and re do it again. After asking the support, why they do it that way, i got a nice little answer:

Eh, im not the one trying to make sales or make customers happy. But each to their own i guess.

"Customer Support"

I had gotten some great help from the Lead Support, but the Staff member "Solidify" seems to be the most cocky person i have seen on this planet. Acting like his (or his friend) product is perfect. Another nice reply from him:

Im sorry for acting so childish in my last reply, but he doesn't want to change so whatever. Also, here another reply from him

That definety sounds like a product you want to continue using. Right?...Right?

"Account creator"

That feature does not work at all. The staff member even admitted it and told me/us that it will be fixed in the next update. Nice i guess?

"Account repair"

Does also not work according to the staff members in the discord.

Now, lets come to the viewbot itself. It does seem to work, so nothing negative to add. HOWEVER, you need private elite proxies. Which they dont mention before you buy.

I used their proxy scraper and got around 1.2k proxies, where around 600 were still working after somehow managing to get the checker working. The maximum i got was 42 viewers. Worth it? Not really.

Don't use the viewbot and the account creator at the same time. Why? The bot will crash.

Now lets come to the part where i state if i would like to continue using the bot or not:

Not at all. While the bot might be functional in the near future, i doubt that i want to use a bot where staff members can't seem to give proper answers without going off on their customers. Im sorry that im "braindead", but i though the bot is user friendly.

Please forgive any grammar error's, im not a native english speaker.

Thank you for reading my small review and i hope that i could help you to decide.

Greetings

EDIT: The user Godfatha now has also threatend my HF account because he got "clout". I got audio recording for it.

Im sure this is not allowed here.

Thanks.

Now, lets come to the viewbot itself. It does seem to work, so nothing negative to add. HOWEVER, you need private elite proxies. Which they dont mention before you buy.

I used their proxy scraper and got around 1.2k proxies, where around 600 were still working after somehow managing to get the checker working. The maximum i got was 42 viewers. Worth it? Not really.

Don't use the viewbot and the account creator at the same time. Why? The bot will crash.

Now lets come to the part where i state if i would like to continue using the bot or not:

Not at all. While the bot might be functional in the near future, i doubt that i want to use a bot where staff members can't seem to give proper answers without going off on their customers. Im sorry that im "braindead", but i though the bot is user friendly.

Please forgive any grammar error's, im not a native english speaker.

Thank you for reading my small review and i hope that i could help you to decide.

Greetings

EDIT: The user Godfatha now has also threatend my HF account because he got "clout". I got audio recording for it.

Im sure this is not allowed here.

Thanks.

First and foremost, Discord is not allowed on HF so I'm not sure who you have been talking to but it has nothing to do with me or my product. Clearly you are confused. No one has threatened you and you have obviously been scammed by someone posing to be me. Thank you.

Lets let the staff decide if threatening me and advertising DISC is ok on HF. I already messaged a staff/admin.

(Jan 8, 2019 10:42 AM)Tribulus Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hello,

I would like to post a small review of the Viewbot.

Now, i have "only" tested it for maybe an hour to 2 hours, but that was enough to decide if i continue using the bot or not.

But first of all, let me tell you something about the advertised features.

Spoiler (Click to View)

"GUI does not freeze"

It does. Might be only some seconds, but it does. Not trying to be picky, but i guess you can say that it doesnt freeze.

"User Friendly Interface"

Not really. To get your proxies checked, you have to start the viewbot, then they get checked, then you have to export them to the proxy scraper and THEN you can check them. After that, you have to stop the viewbot and re do it again. After asking the support, why they do it that way, i got a nice little answer:

Eh, im not the one trying to make sales or make customers happy. But each to their own i guess.

"Customer Support"

I had gotten some great help from the Lead Support, but the Staff member "Solidify" seems to be the most cocky person i have seen on this planet. Acting like his (or his friend) product is perfect. Another nice reply from him:

Im sorry for acting so childish in my last reply, but he doesn't want to change so whatever. Also, here another reply from him

That definety sounds like a product you want to continue using. Right?...Right?

"Account creator"

That feature does not work at all. The staff member even admitted it and told me/us that it will be fixed in the next update. Nice i guess?

"Account repair"

Does also not work according to the staff members in the discord.

Now, lets come to the viewbot itself. It does seem to work, so nothing negative to add. HOWEVER, you need private elite proxies. Which they dont mention before you buy.

That is mainly dependent on the proxies that are used. My tool does include several good proxy lists but I do have a lot of customers so they tend to die out quickly. They refresh every 2 hours also. You can easily achieve over 300 viewers live with the sources provided but since the 2.4 update (just released) one of my customers achieved 2.5k viewers in 10 seconds using rotating proxies.

No not necessarily. With the account creator you will have your own unique accounts and as far as the live viewers go, proxies are the key. I have many sources in my tool that work well but if you're looking for over 3k viewers or so then you would want to use private proxies.

I'm confused why you would want this... Are you not trying to achieve more viewers?

If anyone else is considering purchasing, do so soon because many customers keys have expired. As such I have many renewals and many keys being taken. I'm not always online so I won't be able to restock the keys until the AM ?

It would work the same, it would just change where the viewers are coming from.. I'm assuming you have it set up just to send traffic to the direct URL which would show up on Twitch dashboard as being direct traffic, however if given the ability to have a custom referer you could choose where you want it to show viewers are coming from, ie discord, youtube, facebook, etc, etc.

This is the pic of dashboard external traffic

I got up to 600 viewers at one time with public proxies, idk where all these idiots get proxies from saying they can only get like 42. A load of crap.

You can easily get hundreds on viewers, account creator works 99.9% of the time and was able to make 500 accounts without it freezing or crashing.

Highly recommend, HQ Product!

Thank you for your vouch. I would like to apologize to you for the inconvenience and aggravation of losing your lifetime key. I'm sure you are aware but this is due to the tool being under new ownership and the new owner did not want to offer a lifetime plan; as such, all lifetime keys were removed. I know this is not the response you were looking for but sometimes these things happen in business. Thank you for your understanding ?

Yes you can set how fast you want to follow a channel.

You can import your own list of usernames to make accounts even though there is a name-gen available in the tool

The accounts don't have profile pics and is there a way to set the amount of viewers you want as in if I wanted 25 it would go and only have 25 viewers and below, asking cuz im not looking to get 200 live viewers on the channel at a time

This would be dependent on the amount of proxies that you load into the tool. Typically you will get 1 live viewer per normal proxy so you would just load in less proxies for less views.

it doesn't need accounts to use the raid feature if you host a random channel, use proxies for views, then /raid -name- it says it raids them.

further down yes adding accounts to the account list will let you connect users to the viewer list as well as access to chat.

This has an acc creator but u can also buy HQ accs pretty cheap.

I cant stress how good this bot is, after using it for a month it was working seamlessly. Chatting features work perfectly with the inbuilt account creating, it's everything you'd want in a Twitch bot.
