I bought a google home mini code from his website for $2 using PP without being aware he didnt accept paypal, but it clearly states in bold that if you paid with PP, your payment will be refunded. its been 24 hours and im sure he has read my messages on his thread and hes not sending the refund because i never got the google home mini code.

Did u make a contract deal with him?

Also sadly theres no screenshots or anything to prove this...

Also sadly theres no screenshots or anything to prove this...Well, I bought it from his website (autobuy). I can show proof I bought it.

Proof he says Paypal Payments will be refunded: <https://gyazo.com/f288c592edfa3aeb68585fd89954402c>

Yes, its more for awareness because if you look on his thread, there is also someone else stating that he got scammed from that code. He's not a good businessman ariton - December 11, 2018, 12:14 pm

I personally think you'll be refunded. Hope this gets resolved, maybe he is really busy.

Without a contract it is not a valid deal dispute. Instead of opening a thread up here you can directly contact with him and resolve the issue

I'm pretty sure he doesn't need to scam for 2$. Probably there is a reason why he didn't refund yet

I think OP is trying to get his attention with this thread

Have you even contacted him? This thread seems a little OTT for the situation.

Looks like everyone (including me) is going into a problem. I have $7 with him deposited and NOTHING ON THE WEBSITE WORKS. NO REPLY TO MY TICKET EITHER!

All my orders stuck on "Processing" since 2 weeks (January 2 2019).

My proofs:

I agree, there seems to be a problem. Most of the services are stuck and no reply from him. I have orders stuck since the 5th.

It's my $7 but think 500 people who have even $2 on there so $5 \times 2 = $2000$

People think "its just $2" so whatever but it does matter for the whole community
