How's that engagement going? Skill seems like it was wiped, so I didn't get to see if you posted anymore updates.

Sorry to OP for going off topic, but this is important.

Nope! Good old official Old School Runescape.

I am high alching pretty much 24/7 lmao, its mind numbing but Netflix helps.

Also, I had RS3 gold on my main account so I swapped it for OSRS gp to buy supplies. XP rates are crazy when you have money.

Guap - December 18, 2018, 3:37 pm

Just updated the thread! Got Desert Treasure completed :)

Physics - December 19, 2018, 8:11 pm

I'm trying to get to 63 Hunter so I can earn money for bonds. Currently level 47 I think.

You need to be tele-alching to be getting anything above the max of 75000 experience points per hour you get just alching. If you're just alching at full efficiency without stopping or taking breaks at any time the grind from 55 to 87 would take 50.7 hours equating to about 8.4 hours played per day not counting the grind from 1-55 or the quests and other skills you managed to do in that time.

You're either playing way too much or botting.

My new job is starting tomorrow so I've had a ton of free time, trying to get my stats up as quick as possible before work.

Also, I recently quit smoking weed so my sleep schedule is fucked for a few days.

What account build are you going for ?

also, going for a pk build!

what ideal stats are you going for?

60 att, 99 str, 1 def, 99 range, 94 magic, 52 pray.

right now i'm just playing around with 50 att and low prayer, got a few BH kills. I have to say this build is really fun.

nice i recommend a low prayer build - my account is 75CB maxed 50 atk 31 prayer and in PVP i can 1 hit people lol.

99 strength with Obby maul is so strong, I had to fight a guy and he was hitting like 20-40's on me pretty consistently.

Watch PK videos on YouTube and look at their gear setups and what they do. High level PKing is generally 3 way switching and learning how to eat and pray properly while also knowing mechanics like freeze stepping. It's easy to be okay and hard to be good.

Nice progress, although from a moneymaking perspective theres not much loot unless you get riskfights?

I've got an account similar and only real money is the odd risk/emblems that's v true! eventually was just gonna turn it into a rev pker, or maybe rusher after i had fun with the pure stage.

most of my money comes from my main doing bosses and pvm, then my skiller just for some extra food or gp.
