$5 and $50 scams... What has the world come down to.

Fooling your fellow humans for $ which literally isn't much, to begin with ???

Either way OP, I hope it sorts out for you.

Regards, Wolf ?

I mean, I probably am not the only one but it really shocks me. We are all here trying to make some extra $ on the side.

Whether it is to create an additional income source, a passive income stream alongside your other streams or just helping out your family and stuff. So it breaks my heart to see people doing this, what do they stand to gain from this one-time monetary robbing. I guess some people just want to be evil...

Evil was and always will be out there. But hearing about it is one thing and seeing it in front of you really makes you feel bad.

Real Muthaphukkin G - December 14, 2018, 3:06 am

But will anything be done about these evil people on HF?

Will they be banned or something?

You clearly didn't make sure If the code was valid, when I tried it, it said it's already been redeemed. Contact amazon and see the redeem date and time. I'm not paying for something I didn't receive or maybe you should prove that u didnt redeem it as anyone can say code didnt work. typical answer. i have a feeling you did redeem it as the time he sold you the code and you dont even respond until now. any normal user would tell him the code didnt work right away not wait hours on end.

It isn't possible to prove that, he can contact amazon and get the exact specific time it was redeemed. And I did tell him

Dude, it is an e-gift card sent directly to my email

so i have the date and time of everything

i will report you and get your account locked if you don't pay up

don't be a scamming scum

you have a chance to redeem yourself

pay up or be ready to face the consequences

and you might not know this but i have regular buyers of AGC from this site who will come and tell here how i deal and not one of my transaction has been bad with them

just pay up and stop all this lying, coz at the end of the day karma will strike back

I told you to check when it was redeemed, you'll see it'll be out of our hours of conversation.

Just check, seriously

Maybe you should contact amazon and get some solid proof instead of your weak claims.

Yeah that was stupid of me,

Lesson learnt now, never gonna go first with new members
