Thread: Looking for programmer with AI experience for assignment

packetsfam - December 18, 2018, 12:28 pm

Hi guys,

I'm looking for someone who has a bit of experience in Artificial Intelligence that is willing to work on a small class assignment. Language can be anything you prefer, but I would prefer Python (and I think it's a bit simpler with Python too). Deadline is Wedns/Thursday.

Some background: This is for an Intro to AI course (small assignments), if you are knowledgeable and interested, you will surely be utilized!

Feel free to comment/message me on HF. We can talk on Skype/Discord from there.

Thanks ?

Few have messaged me, still looking!

What's the budget? I'm an undergraduate at stanford. I just took CS 221 (Artificial Intellegence) and a CS 230 (deep learning). I've done a lot of coding in Python and would be happy to help.
