Thread: Suggestion for Crypto Currency section

Evanescent - December 24, 2018, 7:37 am

Hey,

I have a tiny suggestion for the CryptoCurrency section.

Can you please add a mybb code which captures the present market price of that particular coin so that it could be used in the speculation section?

Example : When I want to speculate the BTC is going to below 3k from now and I want to quote the current market price of BTC then I can add a mybb tag like [btc] which will grab the price and gets concatenated to that post and if possible which cant be modified again so that it cant be changed again and always be right at prediction lol ?

Similarly with other coins like [eth], [xmr], [pivx] etc.

That'd be pretty cool and it would automatically update too

It shouldn't update as this is used for speculation.
I've seen this feature in tradingview.

Since HF already stores the values of about ~100 coins (Crypto Game) this would be doable for those specific coins.

Oh only 100 coins?

Many good coins spreads over atleast in top 300 to 400. ?

Well to start off, it's not a bad deal I guess. Thanks for considering.

Possibly like [btc=u] or something to make it update live, and [btc=f] to freeze it? Maybe something like that to have multiple purposes. Not too sure
