Thread: Windows Phones Are The Best Phones. Here's Why

1 - Better battery life

Unlike Android and iOS which are a lot more resource intensive Windows Phone OS uses hardly any system resources resulting in significantly better battery life

2 - Has all the necessary apps but skips the pointless shit

Admit it - most of the time with your smartphone you are doing pointless things like downloading new apps, playing games, using Snapchat, dating apps, other pointless apps... with a Windows Phone you can live a more productive and minimalistic lifestyle without getting involved in the stupid technology driven world we live in

3 - Better displays

Believe it or not - Nokia devices often have better displays and battery life than other phones resulting in more colour clarity

4 - You don't have to put up with iPhone users negatively viewing you for using an Android device or Android users negatively viewing you for using an iPhone

Believe it or not - recent studies suggest that iPhone users and Android users hate one another in dating scenarios. Instead you can explain your productive decision-making in opting for a Windows Phone instead

5 - Better cameras

For the money Nokia phones often have the best cameras

6 - More secure

Malware for the Windows Phone is basically non-existent whereas iPhone vulnerabilities and Android backdoors exist - and any iPhone which is jailbroken can be accessed through SSH with the default root password alpine

Much better value for the money

Clearer displays, better colour clarity, better battery life, not getting enveloped or drowning yourself in pointless shit, better cameras... Nokia smartphones running Windows Phone OS present significantly better value for the money when it boils down to specs and the actual physical technology itself

Less spying

Both iOS and Android are known to enable Apple and Google to spy on you. Nothing like this has come up with Microsoft and Windows Phone OS
