Hi there,

Was just wondering does anyone know if there is any joystick controls that still work?

I have a samsung galaxy s8 loaded with android oreo. My device is not rooted because I want to maintain my two year warrenty but would like to play pokemon go from the house.

I did have one before however that doesn't work now you get a soft ban.

Can someone help me out please

There is still a couple of youtubers that recently upload videos about such things. I sadly forgot the name of him though, but if you search for "pokemon go spoofing" you will surely find someone/something helpful.

Download "tweakbox" and then download Pokemon Go++ and you will have everything you need.

I can't seem to get the apk file for it. It's saying it's available for Apple but not for android any way to get it still?
